Dog's Bark Leads To Capture Of Escaped Quentin Convicts

HERO OF CAPTURE — Five fleeing felons were captured in Santa Venetia today because Dukie, the Maurice D. Worleys' family dog, kept barking all night at intruders outside the Worley home. Mrs. Dorothy Worley, who called police, thanks Dukie for his alertness.

Five Found Behind Santa Venetia Home

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Five frightened, cowering men—manacled hand and foot—were loaded like so much cordwood into a San Quentin van high in the Santa Venetia hills early today.

For almost 30 hours, since they scaled the 26-foot prison wall with a stolen ladder and a handmade rope, the five had slipped through a dragnet of every available police officer in Marin.

Their downfall was a brindle boxer-shepherd named Dukie.

It was Dukie who began barking before dawn today as the five lay huddled in the dense underbrush behind the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice D. Worley at 54 Sunny Oaks Drive.

It was Mrs. Worley who sounded the alarm just before 8 a.m. today after she looked out her back window into the faces of three of the men peering at her from the scrubby manzanita less than 30 feet below her home.

"When I saw the dark one—that did it!" she recalled with amazing calm for a lone woman who minutes before had looked into the hunted eyes of the fleeing men.

Her call to San Rafael police sent carloads of police, sheriff's deputies and San Quentin officers to the hills only about three miles from the prison.

"I couldn't watch as the officers herded them under my window," she said. "I didn't want to look at their faces.'

"I don't know whether to feel proud or ashamed," she said, as if asking whether she did the right thing. "No one is all bad. These boys weren't killers. They are only kids."

To Dukie — who had been barking off and on all night—they were only intruders into the peace and quiet of his domain.

"We had to bring him in about five o'clock so we could get some sleep," Mrs. Worley said. Shortly before 8 o'clock she let him out. This was soon after her husband, an electrician, had left for work at L. J. Weber Electric Co. in San Francisco, and her daughter, Donna, 15, had left for Terra Linda High School.

It was then she looked into the faces of the fugitives.

What she could not bear to watch was a cordon of armed officers, guns drawn, herding the five denim-clad prisoners toward the van parked in her driveway.

There the five were ordered to place their hands on the side of the van while officers searched them from head to foot. Lengths of chain were locked to their wrists and ankles as they lay on the pavement. They were lifted one by one into the open van.

Only DuBois managed a partial smile.

John Rucker, James Spatola, Graham Roark and Kenneth Adams said not a word as they were bodily lifted from the pavement to the metal floor of the van and fitted into place like pieces of a jigsaw puzzle.

Each stole an occasional glance into the faces of the grim, uniformed men whose search was at an end. They found no sympathy. The door of the van slammed shut.

Less than 50 feet away, parked in a neat row on the steep roadway, were five neighbors' automobiles — all with

New City Hall Site On Fifth Selected

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The Fifth Avenue site was selected last night for San Rafael's new city hall.

The next step is financing.

The city council, after brief discussion, voted unanimously to:

1. Declare its intention to build a new city hall on the 2.16 acres between Fifth and Mission avenues, extending from the city library lot to C Street;

2. Instructed the city manager to get appraisals on the property, which is in several ownerships;

3. Instructed the city manager to get appraisals also on the present city hall property, which will be sold, and the central fire station, which may also be sold;

4. Instructed the city manager to present at the April 16 meeting an analysis of financing methods, including bond issue and lease-purchase, to "find the best and cheapest way."

The motion to approve the site was by Councilman David Menary Jr., seconded by Councilman Charles W. Aby.

Councilman Fred Jensen had questioned whether the 2.16 acres was enough, but said "if that's what the council wants, I'll go along."

Eugene F. O'Connor Sr. of 243 Laurel Place had spoken against the site, urging the E Street School be selected instead. "You're going to destroy one of the best residential sections in San Rafael," argued O'Connor. "Sure, that's a nice site for a city hall, but it's a better site for residences."

George Krusz, secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce, reported unanimous approval of the Fifth Avenue site by the chamber's board of directors.

City Manager Dan E. Andersen reported Daniel P. Coleman and William L. Spangler, who are preparing a general plan for the city, had endorsed the Ebasco Services report recommending the Fifth Avenue property as No. 1 choice.

T. R. O'Toole, garageman of 66 Junipero Serra Avenue, expressed doubt the property was large enough and urged "getting six acres somewhere," even though that would mean locating the city hall in the outskirts of town. He also said moving the central fire station to the proposed site, as recommended by Ebasco Services, would create a traffic hazard and make movement of fire trucks difficult.

Councilman Louis H. Baar said he and Fire Chief Vance Trivett had met with representatives of the Board of Fire Underwriters who found no fault with the proposed site and suggested the firehouse be located so that trucks would emerge opposite the end of D Street or else onto C Street—preferably the former.

If a bond issue is to be sought, it will go on the November ballot, councilmen said.

'Brotherhood Our Undoing'

By FRED WYATT

Escaped prisoners who stay together get caught together.

Or, in the blunt words of Fresno County auto thief J. L. Rucker, 31:

"Too much brotherhood was our big mistake."

Rucker made his rueful comment as he explained why he and four other San Quentin Prison inmates were captured in Santa Venetia about 8:25 a.m. today, only about 30 hours after they escaped San Quentin Prison by going over a wall with a prison ladder and handmade rope.

Rucker, James DuBois, 29, Los Angeles County robber, and Kenneth E. Adams, 31, Stanislaus County road camp escaper and parole violator, told their story to reporters in the office of Associate Warden Louis S. Nelson shortly after their recapture.

Graham C. Roark, 27, Los Angeles County burglar, and James P. Spatola, 31, Palo Alto robber, refused to be interviewed or photographed, said Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

They only got about three miles after breaking out of the prison textile mill but "it seemed like 50," said DuBois.

"The dog that barked all night drove us nuts," said Adams. He referred to Dukie, the dog of Mrs. Dorothy Worley, who spotted the five men huddled together on the hill back of her house at 54 Sunny Oaks Drive this morning and called police.

The three escapees said they slept fitfully during the night because of the dog's barking.

All five worked in the prison textile mill. Adams, who had been assigned there only about two and one-half weeks, said he and the others planned the escape about a week ago. He said they were not unhappy over their treatment in prison—they just wanted to make a bid for freedom.

Many times during their "walk and run" journey through gullies, woods and marshes, they saw law enforcement officers who were searching for them, the inmates said.

The escaped inmates were reported seen as far away as Livermore in Alameda County—but they never were away from the area east of Highway 101 extending from the prison to Santa Venetia, they said.

How long the journey took, they had no idea. It was dark when they reached their final huddling place—and they had no idea they were so near to a residence, until daylight today.

They offered no resistence when apprehended by Sgt. W. S. Harris and Officer A. L. Snell of San Quentin, two of the throng of lawmen who converged on the area after Mrs. Worley's telephone call.

Adams still had a screwdriver, obtained in the mill, when captured. Would he have used it as a weapon? he was asked.

"Yes," he replied. He said if someone had opposed his escape try, "I'd kill him." He added after a pause: "But only as a last resort. Not cold-blooded." Then he added, "I'd rather have a gun."

The escapees had nothing to eat from the time they broke out, they said.

New Archbishop Is Installed For San Francisco Diocese

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Most Rev. Joseph T. McGucken, 60, ascended the Episcopal throne in St. Mary's Cathedral today in the solemn and ancient rites of the Roman Catholic Church to become San Francisco's fifth archbishop.

The Most Rev. Egidio Vagnozzi, S.T.D., J.C.D., apostolic delegate to the United States, officiated at the ceremonies which started at 11 a.m. Twenty-eight prelates from 11 states as well as hundreds of Bay Area clergy and members of religious orders participated in the colorful ceremonies.

Archbishop McGucken succeeds the late Archbishop John J. Mitty, who died last year. The San Francisco archdiocese is composed of San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Clara and Marin counties.

The cathedral was crowded with civic and state officials and hundreds of others, who witnessed the ceremonial procession of bishops in their colorful vestments, their mitres and croziers.

The apostolic bulls of consecration issued by Pope John XXIII were read in both English and Latin, after which the new archbishop and Archbishop Vagnozzi addressed the congregation.

Among the symbols with which Archbishop McGucken was invested were the Metropolitan cross, the insignia of a Metropolitan bishop. The Metropolitan has the right within his province to have this cross carried before him in all churches.

Archbishop McGucken, who was born in Los Angeles, has served his priesthood entirely within California. He had served as bishop of Sacramento since 1957.

Five Perish In Reno Fire

RENO (AP) — Five persons were reported killed and 17 were injured today as a fire burned out of control many hours through the four-story New Golden Hotel in downtown Reno. (See story, page 13.)

NEUTRALS SUGGEST DISARM SETTLEMENT

GENEVA (UPI) — Neutrals at the general disarmament conference suggested today that the United States, Britain and Russia let a third party settle their disputes about possible secret testing of atomic weapons.

But British minister of state for foreign affairs Joseph Godber said the neutrals' proposal would work only if the Soviet Union permitted some inspection of its territory by others.

"If the Soviet Union continues to reject international inspection," Godber told the 17-nation disarmament conference, "it is highly improbable that any progress can be made."

The United Arab Republic, Mexico and Brazil joined in the viewpoint of four other neutrals who spoke yesterday. They argued that although the United States and Britain must accept less international inspection of Soviet territory than they now demand, Russia will have to agree to some form of international inspection or arbitration in order to create international confidence and trust.

OAS Invades Moslem Hospital

Early reports said 10 Moslems were killed and 8 wounded, most of them seriously.

There was no immediate indication whether the terrorists were certain Moslems in the hospital or whether the raid was a demonstration to show the OAS will stop at nothing to wreck the cease-fire and keep Algeria from becoming independent.

In other terrorist attacks, two Moslems were killed and three wounded.

The attacks brought the 1962 casualty toll to 3,384 killed and 7,242 wounded.

The attack on the Beaufrasier Moslem Hospital in the Algiers suburb of Bouzaheah followed last night's mortar shelling of the Algiers Casbah in which seven Moslems were wounded.

It came, too, shortly before the scheduled formal installation of the mixed Moslem-European 12-man provisional executive that will govern Algeria until independence, and in the wake of new plastic bombings during the night in Philippeville and other parts of Algiers.

The attack on the hospital was carried out by a commando unit of about 15 gunmen. Some eyewitnesses said the OAS attackers wore stolen uniforms of the Republican Security Guards.

About 100 patients were in the hospital at the time — mostly tuberculosis or lung cancer sufferers.

The gunmen, who drove up in four small sedans, split into three groups.

Another group invaded the wards on the floor above.

The third took up position on a small hill alongside the hospital and machine-gunned patients as they fled panic-stricken and screaming from the building.

Male nurses, awakened by the sound of gunfire, rushed to help the patients. But they were too late.

As the raiders withdrew, they exploded a 32-pound charge of TNT outside the director's office. The explosive was placed between an embankment and the hospital wall in order to increase the blast effect.

The entrance hall of the hospital, the clinical examination room, the X-ray department and the operating block were gutted by the blast. On the second floor, walls of the wards collapsed, floors caved in and beds with bloodstained bedclothes could be seen hours afterward hanging over the void.

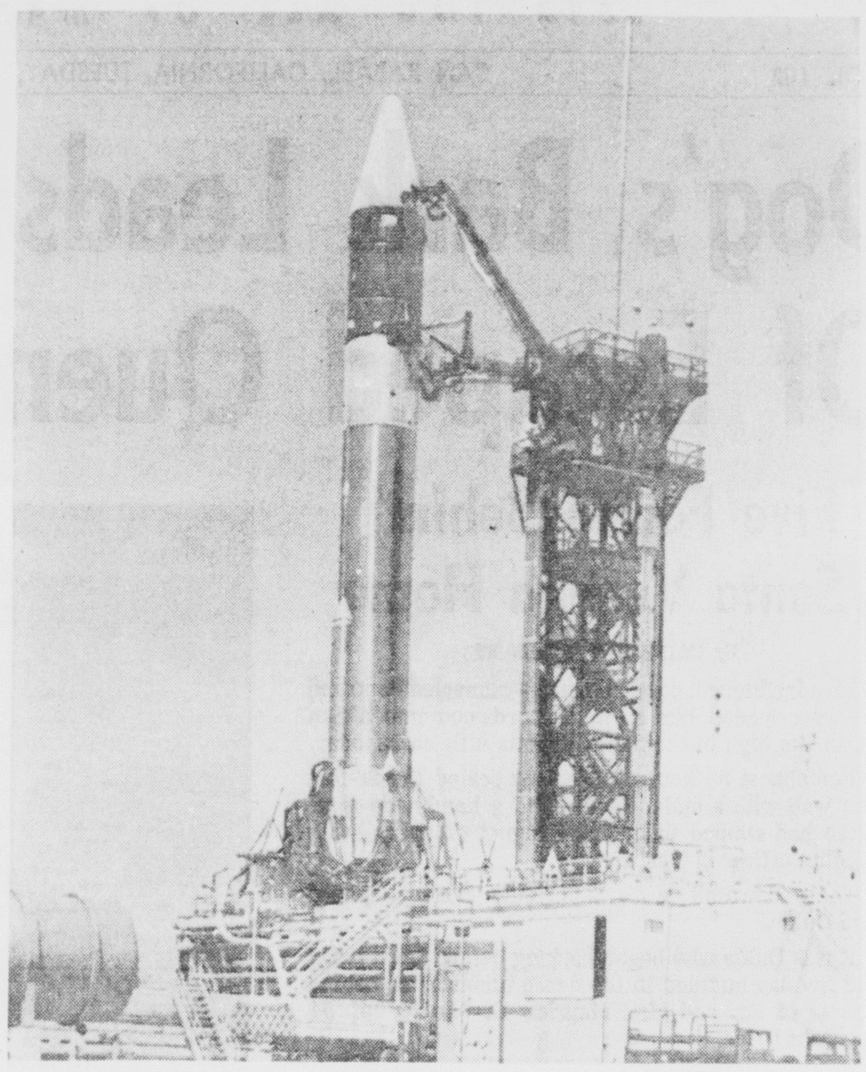
Meanwhile, military authorities confirmed belatedly that four French soldiers and seven Moslem rebels were killed and five soldiers wounded in a clash yesterday near Perregaux on the Algiers-Oran highway.

As far as was known, it was the first battle between French troops and Moslem rebels to break the March 19 cease-fire.



READY TO RIDE — This is the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Centaur space vehicle ready on its launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla. The long-delayed maiden flight of the Centaur is scheduled for Friday. The vehicle is assigned a major role in the U.S. space program. The two-stage rocket measures 10 feet in diameter and is 107 feet long. (AP Wirephoto)

Long-Awaited Centaur Space Shot Is Scheduled Friday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—After months of frustrating delays, the initial test flight of the high-energy Centaur space rocket is set for Friday.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the two-stage rocket will be launched on an intended ballistic trajectory lasting 15 minutes. The vehicle should reach an altitude of 300 miles before plunging back into the Atlantic Ocean, 1,175 miles from the starting point. No payload will be carried.

The test will provide the first flight data on how powerful liquid hydrogen will behave in space. This supercold fuel, which must be kept at a temperature of 423 degrees below zero, provides 40 per cent better performance than chemical fuels employed in present U.S. rocket engines.

Two liquid hydrogen engines with total thrust of 30,000 pounds drive the second stage of the 107-foot Centaur. The first stage is a modified Atlas missile with 367-000 pounds of thrust. This combination is capable of placing 8,500-pound satellites into earth orbit, landing 2,300 pounds on the moon, or hurling 1,300 pounds to Mars or Venus.

These weights are considerably greater than the capability of this nation's biggest present space booster, the Atlas-Agona B. Centaur is expected to fill a gap between Agena B and the more powerful Saturn class of boosters being developed.

Problems encountered in developing liquid hydrogen as a propellant delayed the launching nearly a year. NASA feels the troubles have been licked, but officials do not expect a perfect flight on the first try.

Ignition of the second stage is not a primary objective. Officials are more interested in how liquid hydrogen operates in the weightless environment of space.

NO PROGRESS SEEN IN MARITIME TALKS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Government efforts to settle the West Coast maritime strike resume in San Francisco Thursday. A session in Washington yesterday produced no outward sign of progress.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg appealed personally to both sides for a quick end to the wage and fringe benefits dispute now in its third week.

The strike of three unions has idled 56 ships in mainland and Hawaii ports, has hit the West Coast economy and has posed a food shortage threat for Hawaii.

After hearing the secretary in the morning, union and shipper representatives spent the rest of yesterday in sessions with Labor Department officials, but made no announcement.

Goldberg then named a special panel to meet with both sides in San Francisco Thursday.

He said he acted with the approval of President John F. Kennedy.

Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii has appealed to Kennedy, and Sen. Hiram L. Long of the island state had asked Labor Department officials several times for federal aid in settling the dispute.

On the panel will be W. Willard Wertz, undersecretary of labor, who will serve as chairman; Robert H. Moore, deputy director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service; and James J. Healey, a Harvard University professor and maritime labor expert.

Attending the Washington talks were J. Paul St. Sure, president of the Pacific Maritime Assn.; and Morris Weisberger, secretary of the Sailors' Union of the Pacific and spokesman as well for the other two unions involved, Marine Firemen and Marine Cooks and Stewards.

Negotiations are on a contract to follow one that expired Sept. 30. The strike began March 16 after talks broke down on what ship owners said was their final offer, an 11.8 per cent increase in wages and fringe benefits over three years. The unions want a 17 per cent hike.

In Honolulu, food began disappearing from market shelves for lack of replacement. The state's construction industry and small businesses were hit because of dwindling inventories and high operating costs.

President Franklin Roosevelt declared Death Valley a National Monument in 1933.

Segregationist Awaits Word

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A segregation leader, Mrs. B. J. Gaillot Jr., is awaiting word on her plea to talk with Archbishop Joseph Francis Rummel about a letter which she says threatens her with excommunication.

The dark-haired mother of three had led her Save Our Nation, Inc., segregationist group in picketing the prelate's home and chancery since his office announced a week ago that parochial schools in the archdiocese would be desegregated next fall. However, she said she personally would refrain from further demonstrating until she gets her audience with the prelate.

State Rep. Rodney Buras appeared to have retreated on the segregation question after saying last week that he opposed the action even to the extreme of being excommunicated.

Buras, who received one of the letters, which a chancery spokesman labelled a paternal admonition, met with the archbishop yesterday.

He emerged from the session saying he would abide by Church laws and decisions.

Buras said he would remain emphatically opposed to racial integration of all schools.

"However, as a member of the Roman Catholic Church, I must abide by its laws and decisions pertaining to the diocese in which I live," he said.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Successor Named To White

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stepping into Byron R. White's shoes as No. 2 man in the Justice Department is Nicholas de Borde Katzenbach, a former law professor who boned up on his studies while a prisoner of war.

Katzenbach

Katzenbach, assistant attorney general and chief of the department's office of legal counsel, was appointed yesterday by President John F. Kennedy to succeed White. White has been named to the Supreme Court. Both nominations must be confirmed by the Senate.

Katzenbach, 40, was a Rhodes scholar at Oxford and studied law at Yale.

During World War II he was shot down over the Mediterranean. The Germans clapped him into prison.

He turned to his books, and did so well that he completed his final two years at Princeton within a few weeks of his return.

Berlin Test Alert

BERLIN (AP) — Ten thousand men of West Berlin's Allied garrisons rushed to combat positions early today for a test of alertness.

The exercise roused out most of the American, British and French soldiers in West Berlin. It was the largest operational test undertaken since the building of the Berlin wall last summer.

Three American battle groups, three mattalions of British infantry and a French brigade, plus supporting tanks and armored cars rolled through the streets.

The Allies said the test was designed to evaluate the mobility of the units and their ability to react to various situations.

Free For Astronauts?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The seven Mercury astronauts were understood to be weighing carefully whether they should accept new $24,000 homes offered them by the Houston Home Builders Assn.

The offer prompted inquiries by the White House and evoked a statement of outright opposition from chairman George P. Miller (D-Calif.) of the House Space Committee.

The astronaut's personal attorney, C. Leo De Orsey, accepted the offer last week by telephone after studying the legal and ethical issues involved for three weeks.

But he said if "the powers that be think it would be better for the country for them not to accept the homes, I would abide by that."

Big Orchard Sale

FRESNO (AP)—What is said to be the world's largest almond orchard, comprised of 932 acres near Firebaugh, has been sold for $932,000 to Herbert H. Kertz of Palo Alto.

Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Hiller and son, Vincent, who made the sale, simultaneously purchased the Amarillo apartments in Palo Alto from Kertz for 1.2 million dollars. They also acquired from Kertz the 10-unit Karleton apartments in Menlo Park for $100,000 and a 45-acre olive grove and vineyard in Angwin for $100,000.

Bishop Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Bishop Joseph Gilmore, Catholic bishop of Helena, Mont., for 26 years, died of a heart attack last night during a private dinner of churchmen. He was 69.

His death came on the eve of the installation of the most Rev. Joseph T. McGucken as Archbishop of San Francisco. The dinner, attended by 28 men, was in Rev. McGucken's honor.

Money For Kennedy

WASHINGTON (UPI)—When President John F. Kennedy turns 45 on May 29, he may get direct possession of perhaps four million to five million dollars of the fortune formerly held in trust for him.

It was understood last night that this would represent half of the trust funds set up for him in 1926, 1936 and 1949 by his father.

Equal sums were provided for each of the president's two brothers and four sisters.

Kennedy received direct ownership of one-fourth of the principal of his trust funds when he reached the age of 40.

Shell Blasts Nixon

MANHATTAN BEACH (AP)—Joseph C. Shell, who is battling Richard M. Nixon for the GOP gubernatorial nomination, says that Nixon made a colossal error in his book, "Six Crises."

Shell said the error was a statement in Nixon's book that FBI agents had found a typewriter which was an important clue in the Alger Hiss case. The assistant director of the FBI has sworn at the trial the agency did not have the typewriter.

A spokesman for Nixon was quoted as saying the statement was an error by researchers for the book.

Shell declared, "This is no time to nominate a man whose spokesmtn says he is so careless with his facts he cannot relate with accuracy a vital point in his advance up the political ladder."

Florida Vacation

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President John F. Kennedy's wife and two children were vacationing this week at the home of his parents, former Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy. They arrived by plane yesterday.

San Rafael Youth Enlists In Navy

LONG RIDE BACK—It's only about three miles "as the crow flies" from 54 Sunny Oaks Drive in Santa Venetia to San Quentin, but it was a long ride back today for five prisoners who escaped early yesterday by scaling a 26-foot wall with a ladder and a handmade rope. The five are shown being loaded into prison van outside the Maurice D. Worley home at the Santa Venetia address after their capture there this morning. (Independent-Journal photo)

Thieves Rob Two Mill Valley Men, Flee In Victims' Auto

Two Mill Valley newcomers were robbed of $176 and left tied to chairs last night by three thieves who escaped in the victims' car, they told police.

Washington Porter, II, 68, son of a wealthy Chicago family, and his cousin and secretary, Robert Andrew McDonald, 42, said three men entered the home on a pretext of using the telephone about 9 p.m. yesterday.

McDonald said the men punched him in the forehead and stomach after he threw his money into a closet and tried to bar the door against the intruders.

The two, who rented the home at 263 Molino Avenue only last Sunday, were tied to chairs with their neckties and belts as the thieves ransacked the home.

Besides cash, the thieves helped themselves to whisky and cigarettes and took a wristwatch belonging to Porter.

At first it was believed their assailants were the convicts who escaped yesterday from San Quentin Prison. Mill Valley Police Chief Dan Terzich said they failed to identify the men from photographs of the escapers.

The thieves told their victims they would come back and kill them if they called police, McDonald said. They fled in Porter's 1951 Lincoln.

Savings, Loan Rate On Interest Hiked

Marin County and other Bay Area savings and loan associations yesterday and today hiked the interest rate on savings deposits to 4.75 per cent.

The previous rate of 4.6 per cent had been in effect only for three months.

Pressure from Southern California, where the hike had already gone into effect, was held responsible for the increase here.

"We felt that our savers were entitled to as favorable a rate as was being paid anywhere," explained Fred F. Enemark on behalf of Marin County Savings and Loan, San Rafael.

Others announcing were Ross Valley Savings and Loan, San Anselmo; Tamalpais Savings and Loan, Corte Madera; Homestead Savings and Loan, Sausalito; and Northwestern Savings and Loan, San Rafael.

The 4.75 per cent rate represents a one and three-quarters per cent rise of rate in Marin County in slightly more than eight years. A formerly uniform 3 per cent rate prevailing to Jan. 1, 1954, was broken on that date by a rise to 3.5 per cent.

The rise to 4 per cent was announced as of July 1, 1957. This held for two and one-half years until the rate went to 4.5 per cent on Jan. 1, 1960. Then it went to 4.6 three months ago.

Case Dismissed In Wife Beating

A San Rafael engineer, accused of hitting his wife with the blunt end of a billiard cue last month, was freed of all charges yesterday at the request of his wife.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court dropped the felony assault charge against Harvey John Garrow, 46, of 19 Grant Court. Mrs. Lorene Jewell Garrow told the judge she does not want to press the charge.

San Rafael police were called to the Garrow home on March 22. Officers reported that Garrow had broken a cue stick in two, then swung the blunt end at his wife's face.

Grandson Arrives For Brusatoris

At long last Judge and Mrs. Charles Brusatori of San Rafael have a grandson. They have seven granddaughters.

The new addition to the family, born this morning at Marin General Hospital, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole B. Christensen (Alice Brusatori) of San Rafael. The baby has been named Charles William for his two grandfathers. On his father's side he is the grandson of Mrs. Ellen Christensen of Kentfield and the late Wilhelm Bogvard-Christensen. The boy weighed nine pounds, five ounces at birth.

I-J Ad Salesman Hurt Tobogganing

Bill Siler, 50 Ormond Court, Novato, a display advertising salesman for the Independent-Journal, broke two bones in the right leg in a tobogganing accident at Bijou near Tahoe.

Mrs. Siler said her husband was sliding down a hillside with their daughter, Christine, when his leg caught in a hard-packed snowbank and he was thrown from the toboggan. Christine was uninjured.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed sharply lower today after a gust of selling knocked down prices.

The sharp losses apparently stemmed from the fact that a rallying movement around midday failed to win much support and discouraged selling resulted.

Volume for the day was estimated at 2.8 million shares compared with 2.79 million yesterday.

Commercial Zone Studied In Novato

An exclusive commercial district zone and the small subdivision ordinance last night were given final study by the Novato Planning Commission prior to a public hearing next Monday night.

The commission is creating a special zone for businesses only. Multiple dwellings and single family dwellings are now allowed in commercial zones.

The small subdivision ordinance is similar to the one now in effect in unincorporated areas of Marin County. Under this ordinance, it would be illegal to divide a plot of ground into two or three lots without supervision.

Public hearing will be held at 8 p.m. next Monday in the Novato Community Building.

Perini Corp. Consolidated

Nationwide real estate interests of the Perini Corp. have been consolidated into its wholly-owned subsidiary, Perini Land and Development Co., it was announced today.

Major properties involve about 8,600 acres which include 2,200 acres in the community development at Marin Bay, San Rafael. This is a joint venture of the Perini interests and Latipac Co., a subsidiary of Capital Investment Co., Ltd., of Honolulu.

A spokesman for the Perini Corp. said the move in effect divorces the real estate holdings from the construction part of the business, which will still be carried on under the Perini Corp.

This action was taken on receipt of word from Clerk George Gnoss that the required $600 deposit had been posted with his office within the legally required time limit, as set by ordinance.

OBITUARIES

Katharine Carr Dies; Rites Set

Private memorial services for Mrs. Katharine W. Carr, wife of former State Director of Finance John E. Carr, will be held tomorrow in Porterville, Tulare County.

Mrs. Carr, 60, died Saturday in a San Francisco hospital after a long illness.

She was the mother of Dr. John H. Carr of San Rafael.

She was a native Californian who lived in California all of her life, most recently residing at Newport Beach, Orange County.

She is survived by her husband; two sons, Dr. Carr and Harry C. Carr of Long Beach; a daughter, Mrs. Leicester Emmes of San Francisco, and 12 grandchildren.

The family prefers contributions to the Long Beach Heart Fund.

CARL LUHRS

Funeral services for Carl A. Luhrs, retired insurance executive and Marin County resident for 40 years, will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael.

Luhrs, 78, died Saturday at his San Rafael home, 93 San Pedro Road, after a short illness.

He was a native of Sacramento. His father, Charles A. Luhrs, was a founder of Hall-Luhrs Co., Sacramento wholesale grocery firm.

Luhrs, before his retirement, was an executive with Hartford Insurance Co. He was a member for 50 years of Marin Lodge 191, Free and Accepted Masons. He has no immediate survivors.

Burial will be at East Lawn Cemetery, Sacramento.

EDITH EIDE

A retired Women's Air Force major was found dead on the floor of her San Anselmo home last night.

Edith Eide, 54, of 9 Brookside Court was discovered by neighbor Lathrit C. Grant, who decided to investigate after not seeing her at her daily gardening chores for several days, reported Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani.

Grant called police after he looked through a front window and saw Miss Eide laying on the bathroom floor.

Police officers, who entered the home by breaking a window, found no evidenec of foul play. An autopsy was performed today.

Miss Eide's body was taken to Chapel of the Hills Mortuary, San Anselmo, where funeral arrangements are pending. Her only known survivor, according to Buchignani, is her mother, who resides in Sunnyvale, Santa Clara County.

ROBERT BRANNON

Private funeral services for disc jockey Robert Richard Brannon were held yesterday at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Brannon, 33, was found dead Sunday in Marinwood.

Brannon had a midnight record program on a San Francisco radio station. He was a native of Louisiana.

He is survived by his wife, Von, and three children, Shawn, Kevin and Kopper Brannon, of Marinwood.

Pro-Nasser Revolt In Syria Collapses

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—The central Syrian army command reported the collapse of a two-day pro-Nasser revolt in northern Syria today. It indicated the country would be returned to military control.

Damascus radio announced that rebel soldiers and their officers had returned to barracks in the northern city of Aleppo and order had been restored without bloodshed.

ESCAPE

keys in the ignition. The cars had been there all night.

As the parade of official cars moved down the drive toward the prison, more than 200 officers were called off a vigil which all last night had kept Marin roads crawling with armed men.

At 9 o'clock last night, Officer Charles Newman of the Corte Madera police force was searching an empty house on Sausalito Street where a frightened neighbor reported seeing lights and hearing noises.

"Have you caught them yet?" a frightened voice called from the house next door.

At almost the same moment, Sheriff's Deputy Carl Mead was searching the occupants of a car on East Blythedale Avenue in Mill Valley.

Less than five minutes later, Larkspur Patrolman Charles Mattos halted a suspicious car on Tamalpais Drive in Corte Madera.

Moments later, Newman was inside the San Rafael city limits, questioning five young men in a car bearing Montana license plates.

It was the same from Novato to the Golden Gate Bridge.

Shortly after 9 o'clock last night, Mill Valley police put a hurried call on the police radio:

Three men had robbed two occupants of a house at 263 Milino Avenue and had fled in a stolen Lincoln with Arizona license CPS 039.

The men who had been robbed of over $200—Washington Porter and Andrew McDonald—were shown mug shots of the escaped convicts. They were definitely not the men.

Soon after Dukie began barking.

'Carpet-Bag' May Fizzle

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Partisan battling over Richard Nixon's "carpet-bagger" charge against President John F. Kennedy headed for the Senate today where one upper house Democrat said it may well fizzle out.

The Democratic-dominated Assembly passed a resolution 42-33 Monday expressing its regrets to the president for the carpet-bagger remark attributed to Nixon, a Republican gubernatorial candidate.

"It was strictly a party line vote with Democrats voting on one side and Republicans on the other," said the former vice president who was defeated by Kennedy in 1960.

Nixon has said the reference was not made because of Kennedy's recent visit to address Charter Day ceremonies at the University of California but because of the president's reported plans to return later to campaign for Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown's re-election.

The Democratic senator, who declined to be named, said, "There are enough Democratic votes (29-11) but I don't feel we'll mess around with this."

Assembly Passes Urban Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The legislature came battling down to the final hours of its election year budget session today with no agreement in sight on its interlocked dispute over bonds and budget.

The Assembly finally passed the Unruh bill yesterday to provide more urban county senators. It squeezed by with just a single vote to spare. Senate leaders termed the plan unacceptable.

Approval of the reapportionment measure cleared the Assembly for the partisan showdown on the Democratic administration's financing program.

House Republicans, outnumbered but with enough votes to defeat the budget, insisted that the Democrats yield on the bond controversy before taking up Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 2.9-billion-dollor bill to run the state next year.

The budget session ends at midnight tonight — and no clock-stopping is allowed. The Senate, as expected, voted to continue the concurrent special session until Thursday.

A six-man conference committee met day and night yesterday in an attempt to compromise Senate-Assembly differences on the budget. One member reported only, "We're making progress."

Belle Avenue Sewer Contract Awarded

Contract was awarded last night for a new sewer line extending from Irwin Street up Belle Avenue, to alleviate one of San Rafael's wet weather headaches.

Sewers in the neighborhood overflowed repeatedly the past winter from infiltration of storm water.

The contract went to Kirkwood-Bly, Inc., of Santa Rosa, lowest of nine bidders at $19,962.50, which was below the city engineer's estimate. Bids ranged to a high of $27,914 by M. Weber of Hayward.

The San Rafael City Council postponed a call for bids on five new police cars, for investigation of going to standard models instead of the "police specials" called for in specifications prepared by City Manager Dan E. Andersen.

"Every year we specify these police specials, and everything we get is a lemon," objected Councilman Charles W. Aby. Other councilmen agreed.

Councilman Fred Jensen said the City of San Mateo has found standard six-cylinder Plymouths the most economical police car. Mayor John F. McInnis said he has learned the City of Burlingame has abandoned "police specials" for standard models with an extra heavy gear shift.

T. R. O'Toole, garageman of 66 Junipero Serra Avenue, told the council he would recommend standard eight-cylinder models with the heavy shift.

Andersen was told to redraw the specifications after consulting with other cities and with garage owners.

The council authorized Mayor McInnis to meet with representatives of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. and underground contractors, to try to work out a program for placing all utilities underground.

McInnis said he had learned from Wayne Thompson, city manager of Oakland, that a program of putting all utilities underground in a single easement there has reduced the cost to between $400 and $500 per lot —less in most cases than the total cost with electric and phone lines overhead. "If they can do it in Oakland, they should be able to do it here," he declared.

The San Rafael Council Also:

1. Put on the agenda for action at the April 16 meeting engineer Daniel P. Coleman's one-way street plan.

2. Approved a new map for Fairfax Gardens, East San Rafael fourplex and fiveplex apartment development by Farrar and Kaehler, with two dedicated 20-foot streets in place of the private roadway shown on an earlier map.

3. Approved circulation of petitions for annexation of Terra Linda Oaks Unit 9, with specification that a $75 per lot annexation fee will be charged, which can be spread over five years at the owner's option.

4. Set a deadline of Friday for removal of debris washed onto the Sun Valley Playground from excavation work on a hillside above. If it is not done by then, the city will do the work and bill developer Harry Heifetz, the council decreed.

5. Postponed action on the Bret Harte Drainage Assessment District as necessary legal descriptions were not ready.

6. Set for April 16 public hearing on a zoning ordinance amendment increasing off-street parking requirements for apartment buildings.

7. Refused to approve a subdivision map for Patrick F. Tarrant's 60-lot Las Collindas Unit 9, near Marindale School, unless a paved width of 34 feet on the principal street is provided. Tarrant had proposed paving 28 feet of the 50-foot right of way. The area is not now within the city, but Tarrant wishes to have it annexed.

8. Learned that property owners plan an assessment district for curbs, gutters, drainage, sewer and water lines along Francisco Boulevard from the Wentz Realty office to the Marin Rod and Gun Club. City treasurer, public works director, clerk and engineer were told to work out the cost of servicing bonds for the district.

Liz, Eddie Put Out Roman Candle

BACKTAGE HANDSHAKE — Eddie Fisher attended "The Night of the Iguana" last night in New York as word of his breakup with Elizabeth Taylor was reported. He visited backstage with Shelley Winters.

By RALPH VILLERS

NEW YORK (UPI) — The marriage of Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher has ended, involving six — and possibly eight — children in another broken Hollywood union.

What started amid declarations of love, fealty, tender togetherness and obliviousness to a love-triangle scandal ended with the actress and her singer-husband 5,000 miles apart and a cool, 18-word announcement from Liz' lawyer here last night.

"Elizabeth and Eddie Fisher announce that they have mutually agreed to part," read a representative of attorney Louis Nizer. "Divorce proceedings will be instituted soon."

The spokesman for the famed trial lawyer — who has piloted other headline-making divorces — would not elaborate, nor say when or who would file the action writing finish to the marriage that began May 12, 1959.

Beautiful, four-times married Liz has three young children by previous marriages, and only a few months ago she and Fisher adopted a year-old German girl. Fisher has two children by his "girl next door" marriage to actress Debbie Reynolds, although he has not seen them for many months.

Those six certainly will be touched by the divorce.

Liz, who is in Rome filming the oft-delayed and costly remake of "Cleopatra," has been playing tender scenes off-camera as well as on with co-star Richard Burton, the rumored new romantic interest in her life.

Burton is married and has two children, who are in England with his wife, Sybil. Early denials by Burton of a romance with Liz have been replaced by increasing away-from-work appearances with the 30-year-old actress on his arm.

The 33-year-old curly-haired Fisher, who willingly short-circuited his booming singing and television career to leave Miss Reynolds and their children to become Miss Taylor's fourth husband, was thousands of miles away from his wife in New York city attending a Broadway show when the announcement came.

He, too, was non-commital, telling newsmen who found him at the theater, "Mr. Nizer made the statement. That's it. That's it."

After a back-stage visit to Shelley Winters, who was making her debut in "Night of the Iguana" — a Tennessee Williams story about a desirous widow — Fisher got a taste of the teen-age adolation from his days as a top popular singer.

A crowd of about 200 waited outside the theater, and at least a dozen teen-age girls struggled to get near him. One of them shrieked, "I touched him," and gazed happily at her hand.

HUSBAND AND WIFE — Richard Burton is pictured with his wife, Sybil, in a Roman restaurant late in February. She recently returned to England with her children. (AP Wirephotos)

Hitchcock Fined For The Birds

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Alfred Hitchcock Productions Inc. has been fined $400 for having too many birds for its picture "The Birds."

U.S. Commissioner Adellia McCabe fined the film company after a representative pleaded guilty to unlawful possession of 20 dead sea gulls, 18 live ones and 60 song birds. The birds were in excess of those allowed the movie makers under a federal permit.

Hitchcock is filming "The Birds" at Bodega Bay.

Ex-Marin Teacher Getting Doctorate

William Nachtman, former Marin County school teacher, will complete studies in June at Colorado State College in Greeley, Colo., for his doctorate in education.

Nachtsman taught at E Street School in San Rafael for four years before leaving in June of 1960 for Colorado State. He holds a bachelor's degree from Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, and a master's from San Francisco State College. He is developing an arithmetic test to be given mentally retarded children.

IT'S WORK AS USUAL

Burton Ducks Out At Actress' Villa

ROME (UPI) — British Actor Richard Burton ducked out of Elizabeth Taylor's luxurious villa early today and went directly to the "Cleopatra" set where he was joined by the beautiful actress a half-hour later.

Miss Taylor, 30, showed up for work as usual despite the announcement in New York that she and Eddie Fisher were getting a divorce.

Persons who saw her on the set said she appeared "unruffled and businesslike."

One of them said that "after all, she is a finished actress and she's been acting ever since she was eight years of age. She is going ahead on this picture as normal."

Burton and Miss Taylor have been seen together frequently ever since the Welsh-born actor's wife returned to London and Fisher flew to New York two weeks ago.

In her only public comment up to today, Burton's wife, Sybil, described as "nonsense" reports of a romance between her husband and Miss Taylor. Mrs. Burton and their two children are currently staying in London with relatives.

Burton left Miss Taylor's plush $3,000-a-month villa on the old Appian Way at 8:20 a.m. (local time) and dodged newsmen and photographers who were waiting for him at the gate.

The 36-year-old Welshman, riding in the back seat of a chauffeur-driven cream and white Lincoln, seemed dismayed and startled to see the photographers and newsmen when he came out. He was holding a Siamese cat in his hands, but dropped the animal and put his hands in front of his face as flashbulbs flared.

About 20 minutes later, he showed up at Cinecitta Studios.

County Approves Apartments

Meadowsweet should be inhabited by homeowners, not apartment dwellers, residents of the Corte Madera suburb told the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

Homeowners portested the master plan of developers Southerland and Lang to build a 29-unit apartment house section in the Meadowsweet area Highway 101 frontage road and Meadowsweet Valley Road.

They agreed with Sidney Shaw, planning staff member, that the development should be surrounded by single-family residences.

But planning commissioners approved the plan, with Felix M. Warburg voting "no" and Worth Fenner absent.

As approved, the apartments would be enclosed by a 40-foot "buffer zone" of landscaped hillsides.

Dr. William Upton, chairman, explained he favored the plan because "the buffer seems adequate, and I think you have no need to fear further such developments."

Homeowners complained, however, that the planning commission "discourages single-family residences, which are the backbone of Marin County."

Plans For Science, Math Classes Authorized

Two projects for improvement of science and mathematics courses in elementary grades of Marin County schools were authorized last night by the County Board of Education.

The projects would be carried out as a part of the National Defense Education Act. Cost would total $28,927.90, half to be paid by the federal government and half by the county and the school districts benefitting from the project.

The science project, larger of the two, calls for purchase of $26,730.94 worth of movies, filmstrips, study prints and specimens for use in science classes from kindergarten to the eighth grade.

The mathematics project cost of $2,169.96 will be earmarked for purchase of movies and filmstrips for the same grade levels.

County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis was authorized to apply for the federal funds so materials would be available for the start of school next September.

In other activities last night, the board:

1. Heard a report by Dr. Martin Grissom and Mrs. Bertha Bedilion of the Marin Audubon Society, illustrated with colored slides, of the Canyon Ranch rookery on Bolinas Lagoon which the society is attempting to acquire. Mrs. Bedilion suggested it would make an ideal location for an outdoor educational program for the schools.

2. Authorized hiring a publications assistant in the educational services division at a salary of between $6,500 and $8,000 per year, to edit various publications, act as liaison between the county schools offices and the districts, and with the press and other information media.

3. Heard a report of the services development committee that development of any new services "should proceed slowly."

4. Were told the annual Marin schools trustees institute would be May 26.

5. Set a special meeting May 21 to hear reports and discuss proposed changes in state handling of the county schools service fund.

6. Set a special meeting next Monday night to start consideration of budget for next year.

Dentist New County School Board Member

A Point Reyes Station dentist was named last night to fill the vacancy on the County Board of Education resulting from the resignation of OB. Cavanaugh of Stinson Beach.

Dr. Frederick J. Saam was unanimously approved by the board after recommendation of a special replacement committee.

The committee had received 11 nominations for the appointment, Arnold Dolcini, chairman, told the board. Of these, five, including two women, were invited to be interviewed, one from Stinson Beach, two from Bolinas and two from Point Reyes State. Dr. Saam was selected.

The new board member, who will be sworn in at a special meeting next Monday night, is married and has three children, one in West Marin School, one in Tomales High School and a married daughter, living in San Anselmo.

Besides his dental degree, Dr. Saam holds a degree in civil engineering from Marquette University and was an Army Engineers Corps demolition officer with the First Ranger Force during World War II, emerging as a Major. Before the war he managed a Ford dealership in northern Michigan.

After getting his dental degree, he worked in a dental clinic in New Orleans and taught at University of Southern California dental school. He moved to Marin County in 1954 and established his home in Point Reyes Station three years later.

Naval Aviation Display Planned

A Naval Aviation team from the Naval Air Reserve training unit in Alameda will visit the College of Marin campus tomorrow and Thursday to explain career opportunities in naval aviation open to college men.

Lt. Cmdrs. Richard Hansen and Richard Butler and Ad/1 Don Camburn will interview students and answer questions.

A Naval aviation information van, including displays and the latest models of naval aircraft, will be on exhibit.

County School Office Nurse Is Retiring

Mrs. Genevieve Sheppard of Larkspur, nurse in the county schools office for nearly 17 years, will retire June 30.

The Marin County Board of Education accepted her resignation with regret last night, along with those of five others:

Mrs. Margaret H. Erickson of San Anselmo, teacher of handicapped students for the Novato School District, resigning as of June 30 because her husband, a theological student, has accepted a pastorate in Southern California.

Mrs. Betty Roth, resigning as secretary in the educational services division due to her husband's Navy transfer to Long Beach.

Mrs. Elge Van Schaick of San Rafael, secretary in the special education division, resigning to become secretary to Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel of the Larkspur School District.

NOVATO POST

Mrs. Aubrey Bell of Novato, halftime secretary at Marindale School, resigning to devote more time to her family.

Mrs. Genevieve Underwood of Kentfield, senior account clerk in the county schools office, resigning to become business secretary of the Larkspur School District.

On recommendation of County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, the county board approved the following hirings and transfers to fill the vacancies:

Mrs. Shirley A. Endres of Woodacre, formerly a legal secretary in San Francisco, replaces Mrs. Roth.

Judith Duerson of Corte Madera, a February graduate of College of Marin, replaces Mrs. Van Schaick.

Mrs. Edith Potter of Novato, formerly part-time in the county office's library and secretary to the health, physical education and recreation coordinator,, named orthopedic technician at Marindale School.

Mrs. Joan L. Oliver of San Rafael replaces Mrs. Potter temporarily, Hollis said.

MARINDALE JOB

Mrs. Frances Shafer of Woodacre, secretary to the psychological department, was transferred to Marindale School as secretary, but will continue to handle the secretarial duties of the psychologist.

Mrs. Marc Aber of San Anselmo, an intermediate account clerk, has tentatively been advanced to Mrs. Underwood's position as senior account clerk.

Mrs. Lillian Vecchio, an extra hire typist, replaces Mrs. Aber subject to completing her civil service qualifications.

Dr. Norma Jean Schrier of Fairfax, now teaching in the psychology department of San Francisco State College, was employed for two days per week as a psychometrist evaluating and testing children in the county's special education program.

SCHOOL WILL BE A LITTLE EARLY THIS YEAR IN MARIN

Don't plan on any vacation trips in September this year. School starts too early.

The Marin County Board of Education last night adopted a 1962-63 school calendar which starts classes on Tuesday, Sept. 4. But Christmas vacation stretches out well into next year.

The Christmas holidays start Saturday, Dec. 22, and the students don't have to be back in class again until Jan. 7.

If you're looking that far ahead, summer vacation next year starts on Friday, June 14.

School districts in Marin don't necessarily have to adopt the same schedule, but usually follow the county office's lead, particularly on the opening and closing dates.

Planners Say Point Reyes Should Have Updated Station

Service for 1962 model automobiles shouldn't be provided by a 1930 model gasoline station even at rural Point Reyes Station, the Marin County Planning Commission said yesterday.

Picturesque aspects of the vicinity were cited as the very reason why a flat-topped metal "pre-fabricated" service building should be rejected in favor of something more in keeping with the scenery.

The site proposed by John Helms for a Richfield service station is on the southwest corner of the Inverness turn-off from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard south of Point Reyes Station.

A staff report in which the commissioners concurred said the design was "the traditional metal service station of the 1930s and 1940s." It said the station "should harmonize with this setting as much as possible."

The board granted a use permit but held up an application from the corner is to be restricted for safety.

The first large scale commercial olive planting is credited to Frank and Warren Kimball of National City, Calif.

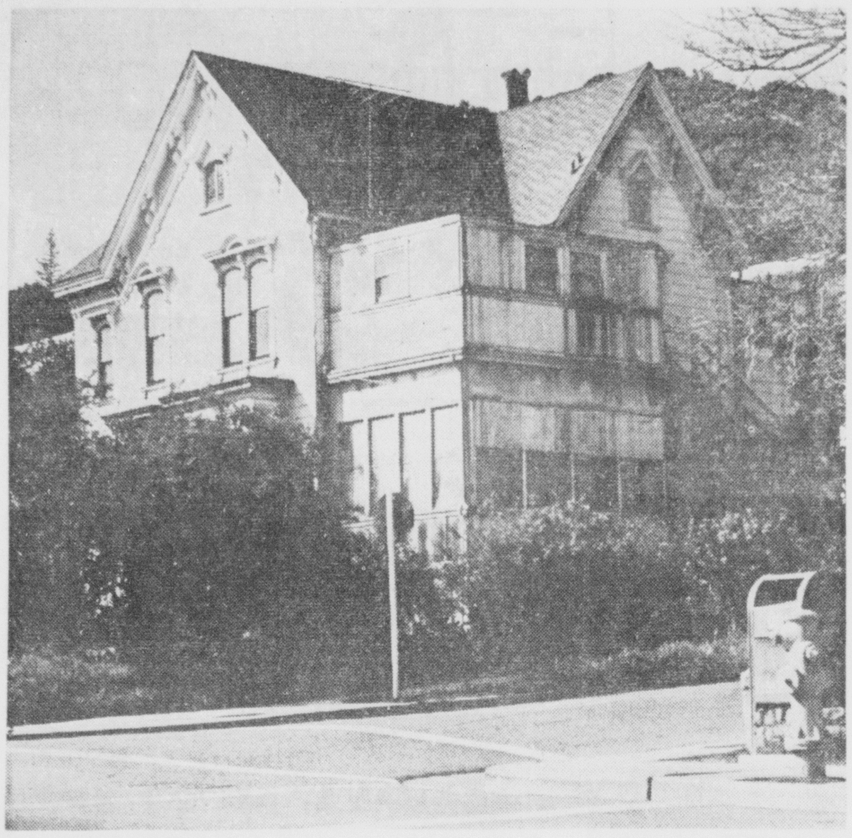
Council Overrides Planners, Grants Parking Variance For Title Company



TO BE DESTROYED—This old San Rafael home at the northwest corner of Mission Avenue and Nye Street will be torn down in a few months to make way for a new office building for Pacific Coast Title Co. of Marin. The 11-room house is believed to be more than 75 years old.

Old Residence Coming Down; Apartments Set

A real estate title company will be housed in a new building to be erected at Mission Avenue and Nye Street in San Rafael.

The San Rafael City Council last night overrode the planning commission, by 4-to-1 vote, to grant a parking setback variance for the building, requested by Ralph B. Priestley, architect.

Priestley said the first floor will house a title firm; the second floor, insurance offices.

The building will replace a huge Victorian residence, a San Rafael landmark. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Walton now live in the 11-room, five-bath house, believed to have been built 75 years or more ago.

The title company is Pacific Coast Title Co. of Marin, headed by Rolph Croker. Construction is expected to be completed before the end of the year, Croker said today.

Pacific Coast Title Co. now occupies part of the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. building at 950 Fifth Avenue. Croker said employees have increased from 11 to 25 within the past two years and larger quarters are necessary.

The savings and loan firm plans to expand its own offices into the portion of its building vacated by the title company.

Across the street from the site of the new building, work is already in progress reconstructing a pre-1900 six-room home into four one-bedroom apartments.

An addition on the front of this building will be devoted to offices, said Mel Marlo of San Rafael, who purchased the property in January. D. J. Nichols Construction Co. is doing the remodeling and addition.

The house had been in the Kinsella family of San Rafael for about a half century. Mrs. Jack Kinsella said it was built in the 1880s, and at one time was parish house for St. Raphael's Church.

Marlo said the remodeled building will be in "modern baronial" style.

The new building for the title company is to show colonial styling influence. It will sit high above the street, in the approximate location of the Walton house.

A wall topped by plantings will hide cars parked on the Mission Avenue side, Priestly told the city council. The council voted to waive the 15-foot setback for parking on Mission Avenue because of this screen and the topography. Councilman Charles W. Aby cast the dissenting vote.

The building will actually front on Nye Street, Priestly said.

TO BE REBUILT—Work has already started on rebuilding this six-room home of the 1880s into four one-room apartments. A completely new addition in the front will be utilized for commercial office space. The house is located at the northeast corner of Mission Avenue and Nye Street, San Rafael.

4-H Club Winners Announced

Twenty Marin County 4-H Club members won first place awards in the annual county field day at Hill School in Novato Saturday.

The winners were chosen from a field of 150 entrants who submitted demonstrations in eight areas of competition, according to Don Brittsan of the Marin County farm adviser's office.

They will now compete in a nine-county regional field day in Davis, Yolo County, on May 19, said Brittsan.

The award winners were:

Livestock: Billy Cummings, 11, and Rick Born, 16, both of Novato, and Mike Tomasini, 11, and Charley Borboni, 14., both of Nicasio.

Food: Stephanie Borboni, 14, and Carol Corda, 15, both of Nicasio; Kathy Marzell, 12, Shirley Bomio, 10, and Sharon Bomio, 11, all of Novato; and Virginia Lally of Fairfax.

Clothing: Diane Thorsson, 13, Sandra Henry, 11, Lynette Bobo, 11, Julian Salmina, 12, and Kathy Heyman, 13, all of Novato.

Animals: Don Melson, 11, and Dennis Baldwin, 15, both of Novato.

Activities: Patty Miller, 16, of San Anselmo.

Are Engineering: Mike Maloney, 13, and J. Cunninghame, 13, both of Tomales.

North Marin Water Unit Oaths Tonight

The oath of office for two board members and reorganization of the board of directors of the North Marin County Water District will highlight the board's meeting at 8 p.m. today in the administration offices.

Frank Bacaglio and William Jonas, board members, were unopposed for re-election and were re-appointed by the board of supervisors.

Planners Put Off Action On Seashore Subdivision

A 168-acre subdivision within the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore won't be considered by the Marin County Planning Commission until the county counsel advises the commission of its legal rights to act in the face of expected congressional approval of the seashore.

The decision to delay action yesterday brought cheers and applause from conservationists who opposed developments in the area.

Asking for the county counsel's opinion, Commissioner Felix M. Warburg said, "We shouldn't lie down before the law each time."

Chairman William Upton had explained earlier the commission was required by law to approve or disapprove a subdivision within 30 days after filing of maps.

The subdivision in question, Drakes Bay Pines on Inverness Ridge, was proposed as a 76-lot tract by San Rafael lawyer Benjamin P. Bonelli.

Opposition to the subdivision was declared by the National Park Service in a statement read by James Cole of Region 4 headquarters, San Francisco:

"While establishment of the proposed national seashore is not assured, recent congressional actions and presidential interest strongly suggest that the Point Reyes National Seashore may be authorized in a very few months.

"In these circumstances, the National Park Service believes that approval of the Drakes Bay Pines subdivision would not be in the public interest."

Bonelli protested that he had been the victim of statements which called continued sale of lots in the proposed 53,000-acre seashore "a fraud on the public." He referred to an Independent-Journal story last Friday which quoted Saxon A. Lewis, chief deputy for the California Division of Real Estate, and David Van Pelt, principal planner of the county planning staff.

"Someone in the planning office planted that article," Bonelli said.

"This is not in our province at all," Upton told Bonelli. "We've had a categorical denial of any such charge."

Bonelli said landowners in the Point Reyes-Inverness area had been "harassed for three years" by federal plans for the national seashore and were "facing alone the biggest government the world has ever known . . . a government which spends billions of dollars overseas to no avail."

"We're not here to discuss foreign policy, Mr. Bonelli," Upton interrupted.

Bonelli said finally he wanted it included in "the record" that "there is no fraud, and I refuse to agree to a continuance (of the subdivision application) for any purpose."

Dry Weather Helping Work In Marin City

Land is dry at Marin City and redevelopment work on unit 2, held up by rains, is expected to be completed by April 14.

Deputy Director Erwin C. Farley of the redevelopment agency said yesterday that work can then begin on 59 single family houses and 48 apartments in units 1, 2 and 3. Farley said he could estimate no date for actual beginning of construction.

A public hearing is expected to be held April 23 on agreements with four Marin City churches for purchase of property to build churches.

At the housing authority meeting, commissioners accepted the sole bid of $21,794 of California Steel Buildings Inc. of Oakland for erection of temporary market facilities. Construction is to start in two weeks and is expected to be completed in mid-May.

The commission authorized delivery of the deed to Tamalpais Union High School district for the 31-acre future high school site at Marin City. It approved an agreement with the district that, if the authority has excess fill, it will sell it to the school district for development of the high school site.

Burning of remaining vacant buildings in Marin City awaits favorable wind conditions, the commission heard.

There are 569 families living in Marin City, a decrease of five during the last month.

Retiring Fireman Honored In Ross

Retiring Carl E. Olson was presented last night with a gold plated replica of the badge he has worn for the past 10 years as assistant fire chief of Ross.

The presentation was made by Chief A. T. Henrich during a party in Olson's honor at the firehouse. Attending the party were Capt. Charles Pinza and 25 volunteer firemen of Ross.

Phone Booths Damage

Someone tried to loot the coin box in a phone booth at 1068 Machin Street, Novato, between Sunday night and 3 p.m. yesterday, police reported. Richard Wilder, employee of the Western California Telephone So., reported the phone had been damaged by prying, but nothing was missing.

Kentfield Boy, 7, Is Struck By Car

Seven-year-old Steven Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson of 20 Edna Court, Kentfield, was in fair condition at Marin General Hospital today with a broken arm and leg after being struck by an automobile yesterday afternoon.

Stanley Twyman of 11-A Belle Avenue, San Anselmo, said he was driving west on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard near Laurel Avenue at 3 p.m. when the child darted out from the north side of the highway close behind the car ahead. Twyman told the California Highway Patrol he braked and swerved but hit the boy with the left front fender.

Farley To Take Over Agency In Richmond

Erwin F. Farley, deputy executive director of the Marin County Housing Authority and Redevelopment Agency, resigned yesterday to become executive director of the redevelopment agency of Richmond on May 1.

ERWIN C. FARLEY
A step up

Farley, who resides in Belvedere, has held the present position three years. He said his new post will be a step in his profession and gives him more permanency, since his Marin post is of a somewhat temporary nature. He said he will also receive a pay increase.

Farley is chairman of the board of managers of the Marin County Young Men's Christian Assn., a member of the Belvedere Volunteer Fire Department, and a Reed Union School District trustee.

Farley said he expects to continue to live in Belvedere for the next few months.

Prior to joining the Marin County Redevelopment Agency he spent 18 years with federal government in the field of public housing.

Executive director Bert Klahn said, "we're losing an excellent man who has done an oustanding job."

Farley will work through April 30 at Marin City.

Men's Dorm Queen

Susan MacFarland, daughter of L. D. MacFarland of 23 Zarco Way, Novato, reigned as queen at the Hershey Hall men's dormitory open house at Wesleyan College at Mount Pleasant, Iowa, last weekend. She is a sophomore and a member of Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity.

Oakland Man Hurt In Crash

An Oakland man suffered minor injuries in causing a four-car, tail-end collision yesterday southbound on Highway 101 just north of Entrada Drive, Ignacio.

Herbert R. Cinnamond told the California Highway Patrol that he saw cars ahead slackening about 2:10 p.m. His brakes didn't hold so his sedan slammed into a car driven by William M. Clements of Santa Rosa. The Clements car hit a station wagon driven by Lester Long of 662 Olive Avenue, Novato, which in turn struck a sedan driven by Logan G. Sweaney of Santa Rosa.

Cinnamond was treated at Marin General Hospital for nose cuts.

Disputed Apartment House Is Approved By Marin Planners

Plans for a 29-unit apartment house north of San Rafael were approved yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission despite differences of opinion as to architectural esthetics.

Edmund Kagi of the county planning staff called the apartments the "latest of a type of development in the area which has achieved a certain notoriety as "Chief Bad Example No. 1."

The proposed three-story building at the intersection of Marrydale Road and Las Gallinas Avenue is too large, Kagi said, and its facade is monotonous.

Kagi compared the U-shaped building, with interior court and swimming pool, to a cell block. The design allows no privacy or quiet, he said, and the "total result is an unhappy one for tenants, adjacent property owners, and the county as a whole."

Architect F. G. Farr and developer John Farrar defended the apartments as an "excellent artistic interpretation, very simple," with privacy provided by private patios.

Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. said he saw nothing wrong with the plans and moved approval. The plans were approved 3-to-1 with Felix M. Warburg voting "no" and commissioners Worth Fenner and John S. Switzer absent.

Warburg said he wanted more time to examine the plans.

Chairman William Upton said the problem of the apartment design was "not with the developer but with the low standard of the R-3 zoning." Planning Director B. D. Dobbs suggested the whole question of architectural approval might be re-examined.

Commissioners earlier had approved plans for a 17-unit apartment building at 19 Merrydalea Road. On it, Upton voted "no" because the building was "too large for the size of the lot."

The commission also:

1. Continued until April 16 a request by Blumenfeld Theaters for a sign designating "101 Movies" at a drive-in theater on Highway 101 north of San Rafael. A 330-square-foot sign had been denied and a smaller sign will be submitted.

2. Approved a use permit for 3-R Schools Inc. to build 10 extra classrooms and two administrative offices at the school site, 3333 Highway 101, north of San Rafael. Expansion will include more playground area and parking space.

3. Approved a veriance request by County Counsel E. Warren McGuire for a residence within 10 feet of the front property line at Rosebank Avenue and Rosebank Lane, Kentfield.

4. Approved a use permit for John Fields to establish a five-acre trailer park on the east shore of Tomales Bay, one-quarter mile south of Marshall. The planning staff noted a need for such parks in the area.

Junior, Senior Life Saving Classes Announced In Marin

Junior and senior life saving classes as well as water safety courses for April and June were announced today by the Marin County Red Cross chapter.

They are, according to Mrs. Lowell F. Jett, public information officer:

April 17, 18, 19, 20, 21—junior and senior life saving classes at San Rafael and Tamalpais High School pools, 9 a.m. to noon. George Gustafson and Ronnie Hannigan instructing. Applicants must be 12 years old for junior course, 16 years for senior course.

April 28 — water safety instrutor refresher course by Elmo Patterson, instructor from Pacific Area Red Cross, San Rafael High School, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Enrollment limited to those now active as water safety instructors.

May 5, 12, 19, 26 and June 2, — water safety aide course, Katharine Branson pool, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., instructed by Mrs. Russell Dwyer and Mrs. Thomas Gilboy, the later the chairman of water safety. Courses open to anyone 14 years or older who holds a junior or senior life saving certificate.

Thirty is maximum enrollment for each course. Additional information may be obtained from the chapter office at 712 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael.

Anti-Solicitor Law Action Is Postponed By Belvedere

Because the status of Girl Scouts selling cookies, Campfire Girls selling mints, and Independent-Journal carrier boys soliciting subscriptions was not defined, decision on a proposed "Green River" anti-solicitor ordinance was postponed by the Belvedere City Council last night.

City Atty. William H. MacKay was requested to reword the ordinance so that charitable institutions, such as the Salvation Army and Goodwill Industries, as well as the young people, would not be handicapped.

The plea for exclusion of these groups was made by Councilman Ida Scott, who was attending her last regular meeting. Mrs. Scott is not seeking re-election.

Councilman H. Nordmark Williams, in reviewing business licenses charged by the city, recommended that a new scale be adopted rather than the flat rate of $20 annually for non-residents and $8 for residents.

He recommended charges of $5 per month, $10 a quarter, $15 for half a year and $25 for a year.

He also suggested a supplemental fee be charged if gross income exceeded a certain amount. He predicted such a scale would double the present business license income.

Williams further advised conforming to the uniform code for plumbing and electrical inspection fees.

The council accepted the low bid of $5,159 from Ghilotti Brothers to widen Beach Road near its intersection with Cove Road, and ti improve the sea wall. Gasoline tax funds will be used for the project, which was approved two years ago but was postponed pending sewer installation.

The city manager was authorized to execute an agreement with the Tiburon Sanitary District to permit joint use of the city line along Paradise Drive, provided the city's right to transport one and one-half million gallons daily is not jeopardized and that the district release the city from all claims for damage to the district lines on Paradise Drive. The district will pay $1,000 annually for 10 years to acquire 25 per cent capacity of the line.

Hearings on claims that Corinthian Island residences are being used as multiple dwellings in violation of the zoning ordinance were postponed. MacKay reported not all the facts had been gathered.

The council went on record as opposing any amendment to the U.S. Constitution or any action by Congress or the executive branch which would permit taxation of normally tax-exempt bonds. The action was taken on recommendation of State Treasurer Bert Betts.

The council will hold an adjourned meeting April 17 to canvass the results of the April 10 election and further discuss license fees.

Blueprint Service Opening In Marin

A new firm will open for business tomorrow in San Rafael.

Marin County Blueprint Service will start operating at 23 St. Joseph Court as a partnership of two San Jose residents, M. F. McNulty and his son, C. L. McNulty.

Besides blueprinting services, the firm will also sell architectural and engineering supplies, said McNulty.

At the end of 1961 there were 418 meat-packing and processing plants in California under State or State-approved municipal inspection systems.

12th Night Tree Burning Limited

The council last night voted to inform Rev. Tod W. Ewald, rector of Holy Innocents' Episcopal Parish, to have fewer Christmas trees burned next year.

The park and recreation commission was going to present a plan for landscaping the triangle but informed the council by letter last night that it had abandoned the plan because plants would be ruined by the burning of the trees.

The commission recommended last year to abolish the ceremonies but the suggestion was turned down by the council after a plea by Father Ewald.

Corte Madera Approves Second Taxi Company

After some head-scratching on the need in Corte Madera for two taxicabs, the town council last night granted a certificate of public convenience to the Redwood Cab Co.

Redwood Cab owners Clifford and Andrea Longfellow, who have been licensed in Larkspur and has also been doing business in Corte Madera, requested the license. It was opposed by Ted Cohen and his wife, Lucy, owners of Ted's Taxi, which already has a franchise to solicit business in Corte Madera.

Mrs. Cohen declared, "Corte Madera is not a taxi town. It doesn't need two taxis."

Mrs. Longfellow produced papers which showed Redwood Cab Co. had received 309 passenger calls from Corte Madera from Jan. 1 to March 28 and said there was a need for an additional cab in the town.

Fairfax Police Captain Would Have Taken Test

Fairfax Police Capt. Henry von de Heide said yesterday he had intended to take the examination for Fairfax police chief upon the retirement of Clifton Cordes.

Von de Heide said he told Mayor Kenneth M. Edgar that "had there been no age limitation imposed on the examination by the city council, I would definitely have taken the test."

The veteran captain, who was barred by age limit from taking the examination, added:

"I feel that the issue of the police examination and its proposed re-opening have become political issues. If I commented on the problem or authorized anyone to do so for me, I'd lose my job."

Informed Public Will Cast True Vote On Incorporation

In this breezy season of campaigning on municipal, district, county and state levels, the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council appears to be striking a new note in its present agitation for incorporation of Tiburon.

If action encompasses all present planning proposals, the residents who are to decide the issue by ballot will be fully advised concerning the issues, and will have sufficient interest to go to the polls in strength, qualified to state the wishes of an informed majority.

Initial planning encompasses both research and public information. Under John P. Eichorn as chairman, the Tiburon Incorporation Committee has a number of sub-committees to seriously study all segments—even to a gala Bay cruise for fund raising to finance a thorough, factual educational program.

Leaders in recent Marin incorporations—notably Novato—have been called in to recount their pre-election experiences and means of overcoming disinterest and off-issue dissidence.

Previous incorporation studies and reports will be renewed by qualified citizens, it is planned, to discover and correct errors. Careful research is proposed on responsibilities taxpayers must assume under incorporation, finance, police and fire protection, streets and roads, recreation and zoning, besides composition and functions of governing and operating units.

Lack of concrete information breeds lack of interest. The crucial vote, as a result, is light and whatever the outcome, it does not represent the will of the majority.

In one Marin school district not too long ago, an elaborate brochure carried a graph chart which failed to show vital figures on costs of education and neglected other obviously important information. Less than 30 per cent of the people voted. Much-needed education facilities were defeated on the negative vote of slightly more than 10 per cent of the eligible voters.

The Tiburon Incorporation Committee plan, if carried out, will really place all salient facts before the voters. This, of course, will spur the opposition to thoroughly state its case. The chances are then good that a high percentage of affected citizens, fully informed and aroused, will decide for or against incorporation.

Legislative Counsel Answers Francis Amendment Questions

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

A copy of a legislative counsel's March 13 opinion on the Francis Amendment has come into our hands. The opinion, prepared for Assemblyman Harold Levering (R, L.A.), was written for Legislative Counsel A. C. Morrison by Principal Deputy Owen K. Kuns. It is a lengthy document, 18 single spaced pages. It answers seven specific questions. The seventh question deals with additional penalties under the proposed new bans on subversive activities and its answer is quite lengthy. However, the first six questions are tersely put and tersely answered, although the legislative counsel additionally includes an analysis of each of his answers, which takes up most of the space.

Here are the six questions and answers:

Q—What legal effect do the findings set forth under Section 1 of the measure have that do not already exist by virtue of (a) the existing federal law, or (b) the existing California law?

A—In our opinion the findings set forth in Section 1 of the proposed initiative measure would have no additional legal effect as compared with existing federal and California law.

Q—Sections 2 and 4 of the proposed initiative measure prohibit communist action, communist front, and subversive organizations from being recognized as political parties under California law. As such organizations are defined in the proposed initiative measure, which of them could not be banned under the existing Sections 6431 and 6432 of the Elections Code?

A—In our opinion an organization which would be prohibited from being recognized as a political party under the initiative measure as either a communist action, communist front, or subversive organization, would also probably be disqualified under the existing Section 6431 of the Elections Code.

Q—Sections 3 and 4 of the initiative measure state that if an organization is found to be a communist action, communist front or subversive organization by a California court, grand jury or the California attorney general, it "shall be deemed" to be such an organization for the purposes of the measure.

(a) Is it possible that the courts will construe these provisions as meaning that as soon as the attorney general or a grand jury makes such a finding, every member of the named organization must be removed from his political office or employment at once on the basis of such a finding?

(b) If it is so construed, would it be constitutional?

(c) If not so construed, what procedure must be followed and what must be proved to effectuate a dismissal?

(b) In our opinion if these provisions of the measure were to be so construed, they would be in violation of the U. S. Constitution.

(c) In order for such a determination to be conclusive as to the subversive character of the organization, it would be necessary to show that procedural due process was provided under the procedure whereby such a determination was made.

In order to secure the dismissal of a person from public employment for membership in such an organization, it would be necessary to prove that the person had knowledge of the subversive character of the organization at the time of his membership.

Q—As a practical matter, who would be barred from public office or employment by the prohibition contained in Section 6 of the measure who would not be barred by Section 19 of Article XX in combination with Section 3 of Article XX of the State Constitution?

A—In our opinion, as a practical matter, the initiative measure would not bar from public office or employment any person who could not be barred from public office or employment by the existing California law.

Q—What, if any, organizations prohibited from having their names printed on a ballot in this state by Section 5 of the initiative measure, would not also be affected the same way by the existing California law including Section 6431 and 6432 of the Elections Code?

A—In our opinion, no additional organizations would be barred from having their names printed on the ballot under Section 5 of the initiative measure as compared with existing California law.

Q—Section 5 of the initiative measure would keep off the ballot the names of members of communist action, communist front, and subversive organizations. If a subversive falsely signed the statement required under the existing Section 6491 of the Elections Code, and this could be proved, could he not be kept off the ballot by an appropriate legal proceeding?

A—In our opinion, the name of such a person could be kept off the ballot through a mandamus proceeding in courts.

Playing Right Into Communist Hands

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal

Re the Francis Amendment:

I'm quite sure that Patricia W. Pollack, Evelyn Patterson, Belle M. Jones, et al don't realize it, but by their support of the Francis Amendment they are saying they are playing right into the hands of the Communists.

It's the same old tried-and-true historical gambit—Divide and Conquer. Get the U.S. Americans fighting among themselves, undermining their own Constitutional, and they'll be a pushover!

Why should Russia waste bombs on us? It isn't necessary; they can count on is to continue our block-headed Do-It-Yourself program towards socialism, the teenage sister of communism.

Well, I'm 'agin' it, definitely! I don't intend to wake up some hammer-and-sickle morning and find that I've exchanged by birthright for a mess of pottage!

If we would really live up to our Constitution, instead of all this specious flag-waving and suspect-your-neighbor jazz, it would be a stupendous thing, unbeatable in the international market.

But with so many of us it's a case of 'make big noise on the landing—nobody comes downstairs!"

As for the Francis Amendment, the New Yorker quote of 1928 is applicable: ' I say it's spinach, and I say the hell with it!"

Trading Stamps Are Heinous

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

According to your issue of March 2, Novato may get a swimming pool with trading stamps. If the stamp set up in Novato is the same as in other communities, the merchants will contribute most of the money and receive no credit for the pool. The largest winner will be the trading stamp company.

Of the many forms of holdups, the trading stamps are the most heinous. A holdup man with a gun risks being shot or a term in San Quentin, but a salesman with a book of trading stamps risks nothing.

Why do merchants give trading stamps? Mostly because of the fear that his competitor will take them and gain an advantage. It usually happens that both finish up with them so nobody gains.

Does the customer gain? In cases where the merchant can add the cost of stamps to the merchandise, she does not gain, in fact she may lose if the cost of handling them is added to the cost of stamps. In some businesses such as gas stations, although the profit on gas is minute, the operator must absorb the cost. In some cases the cost of the stamps equals the rent.

What appears to be a harmless sales gimmick providing so-called amusement and fun for housewives, could turn out to be a monster with all the insidious ramifications of a protection racket.

Unfortunately the larger the business, the easier it is for it to resist trading stamp pressure. Once a store has them, it is similar to holding a lions tail—there is no letting go.

Help to stop this insidious cancer in Marin, by refusing to take stamps from merchants, especially the small businesses, who know but probably will not admit, that you are taking money which rightfully belong to their families. Don't demand your pound of flesh.

I-J Thanked For Sport Safety Aid

EDITOR,
Independent Journal:

I take this opportunity to thank you for your editorials and articles on our First Annual Marin County Sports Injury Conference. Your cooperation assisted greatly in making the conference successful. Your coverage was gratifying to the committee members and the sponsoring groups of the Sports Injury Conference.

It has been, and is, my desire to support and promote programs in Marin County, such as the Sports Injury Conference, which will benefit our youth. The prevention of injuries, emergency care of the injured, better sports equipment and athletic insurance are aspects that will safeguard the health of our athletes. Your help in these endeavors is highly appreciated by everyone.

SOME YEARS AGO, Mr. Ben Schulberg was Mr. Big at the Paramount Film Studios, ruling the roost wisely—and autocratically. Then came one of those cyclones that frequently upset things in Hollywood, and in Mr. Schulberg's old chair suddenly sat a man named Katz.

Some days after the upheaval, a young actress met Schulberg at the Brown Derby Restaurant, and caroled, "It's so wonderful seeing you again, Mr. Schulberg."

"I'm no longer Mr. Schulberg," he told her sorrowfully. "I used to be Mr. Schulberg."

The inmates at a well-run looney bin chipped in and bought the new doctor a great big red ballon. "It's to show how much better we like you than the doctor who preceded you," explained the spokesman of the inmates. "Somehow you seem more like one of us."

Join 'Kill Fly Week' and End Twenty Digits – Come August

WHEN THIS appears, the last April Fool's joke will have been forgotten, except for those clever ones which someone is trying to remember to pull on someone else next year.

April is a month nearly devoid of special days and weeks as any in the year. Easter comes in April this year, but then it can come in March, so one can't call it an April holiday.

There aren't even a respectable number of "weeks" in the month. I can't even think of any special weeks that have been proclaimed, such as "national eat more dill pickles week."

SO IN THE DEARTH of weeks, I am going to proclaim one for Marin County. I ask everyone to cooperate in this week. It shall be called "kill a fly week."

Along about August every year, people are bothered by flies. Then it is too late to do anything until a frost comes along in November and kills them.

One entomologist has figured out that if all the offspring of one pair of flies in April were to multiply until late August, there would be 191, 010, 000, 000, 000,000,000 flies.

So now if you want to get rid of that huge number of flies in August, just kill one pair of them in April. One word of caution, be sure to kill one of each of both male and female flies.

If everyone does this, there will not be nearly so many flies in August.

PAUL BRINDEL, Novato writer of Catholic articles, has received an invitation to attend three special Masses on the establishment of the Diocese of Santa Rosa. They will be the consecration ceremony of the Most Reverend Leo Thomas Maher, D. D., by the Most Reverend Egidio Vagnozzi Thursday; first Pontifical Mass of Bishop Maher at St. Mary's Cathedral in San Francisco April 8 and canonical erection of the Diocese in Santa Rosa April 26.

ONE YOUNG airman in the joint office of information got his first airplane ride last week, a two-stop flight to Seattle and back. All went well until the plane approached Hamilton Air Base and the landing gear would not come down.

The plane made eight passes over the field until the landing gear was finally down.

That young airman confessed that he could see himself as a headline in the next day's papers. He thought for sure his first plane ride would be his last.

"I'm no coward," he said. "I'll take another ride in a plane—in two years maybe."

MOST OF US have had a few good hearty laughs at women's hats. Some look so ridiculous that we have been inclined to say "If that isn't the craziest hat I ever saw, I'll eat my hat."

Well last week, the Junior Women's Club of Novato held a "Madhatter's luncheon" at Rickey's Rancho Rafael. As one can easily guess, there were crazy hats of all kinds there. So crazy in fact that after the luncheon, the guests wound up eating one of them.

Mrs. Jack Kidder (no pun intended) had made a hat consisting of a cake and candles, which was eaten (and enjoyed we hope) by the guests.

Supreme Court Minority Opinion Cites Dangers In State Disputes

IN HIS brilliant and moving ing dissenting opinion Mr. Justice Frankfurther called the decision of the Supreme Court in the Tennessee apportionment case "a massive repudiation of the experience of our whole past in asserting destructively novel judicial power." Coming from him, the most learned of the judges, and supported by Mr. Justice Harlan with his great legal wisdom, this strong language is enough to give pause not only to the layman but to the judges who will for a long time to come be working under this new finding.

Being a layman myself, I find it useful as a beginning to fix in mind the facts of the case which was started on its way to the Supreme Court by a group of citizens of Tennessee. The heart of the complaint was that the constitution of Tennessee has been violated over a period of half a century, and that they are unable to obtain a remedy from Tennessee courts, the Tennessee Legislature, or by an election under the existing apportionment.

The constitution of Tennessee says there will be not more that 99 members of the House of Representatives and 33 members of the Senate. The General Assembly—the whole legislature, is to allocate, at least every 10 years, the seats among the counties or districts "according to the number of qualified voters in each."

THERE HAS BEEN no reapportionment since 1901. In the intervening years the legislature rejected all bills to carry out this mandate. In Tennessee only the General Assembly can enact the necessary legislation. But the legislature, as now constituted, will not pass these laws.

Fifty representatives elected by one-third of the voters control the Lower House. If there were a reapportionment according to the Tennessee constitution, 17 out of these would lose their seats.

MR. JUSTICE Frankfurter's comment is that "there is not under our constitution a judicial remedy for every political mischief, for every undesirable exercise of legislative power. The framers carefully and with deliberate forethought refused so to enthrone the judiciary. In this situation, as in others like nature, appeal for relief does not belong here (that is, in the Supreme Court). Appeal must be to an informed, civically militant electorate."

If all the doors are closed, how do the city people of Tennessee get relief? It is always a dangerous situation when the doors are closed against judicial or public or political relief and against peaceable change.

Six justices, the majority of the court, have opened a little the one door of Federal judicial relief; only a crack at the moment, but there is no doubt that the two dissenting justices are fully justified in warning that if the door is opened wide, the courts may become dangerously involved in state politics all over the nation. This would be appalling to have Federal judges becoming arbiters of the political affairs of each state.

Corte Madera Restricted Parking Introduced

The Corte Madera Town Council last night introduced an ordinance to restrict parking on narrow streets throughout the town.

Only one of the handful of spectators voiced an opinion on the proposed ordinance before the vote after a short "courtesy public hearing."

The council was unanimous in approval of the introduction, 4-0. There is one vacancy from resignation of Bud Cole.

Councilman Raymond De Young reported on a "field trip in the Corte Madera hills" which a special committee made Saturday. The committee was made up of Councilmen De Young and Edward W. Colthurst, Police Chief Frank L. Nelson, Town Manager Arthur H. Brandow and Supt. of Public Works Walter E. Nagel.

De Young said the group felt it was important that 10 feet of clearance be left for vehicular passage. "We were thinking about fire and police emergency passage," De Young said.

Only member of the audience to speak was Bruce Goecker, a member of the town park and recreation commission, who said he favored long-term action on enforcing such an ordinance.

Councilman Charles F. Pendleton pointed out that signs would be posted and citations issued.

The council unanimously approved a request by Marin Estates Homeowners Assn. for a school crossing guard at Paradise and El Camino drives before the new San Clemente School opens April 23.

City Manager Brandow recommended the request be denied because of the cost of hiring another guard. But the council thought otherwise. Brandow was instructed to work with Police Chief Nelson in choosing the new guard.

The Corte Madera Council Also:

1. Changed a section of the personnel ordinance making a maximum accumulation of sick leave days 60 instead of 30. The change will be retroactive to April 1 to allow clerk Mrs. Bertha Hall, who is recovering from an operation, to have the extended benefits.

2. Set for April 30 a salary review meeting in preparation for the 1962-63 budget.

3. Instructed Brandow to request formal agreement of William M. Nourse of 2 Spindrift Passage, for an easement across his lot in Mariner Cove for a temporary sidewalk for San Clemente School children. If agreement is not reached by April 16, Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis was instructed to start proceedings to acquire the section on a permanent basis.

4. Instructed Brandow to make a further study and report later on a proposed ordinance amending the building code requiring sidewalk and street improvements.

5. Set for April 16 an appointment to the park and recreation commission to replace Herman

Explosion, Fire Destroys Famed Old Hotel In Reno

RENO (UPI)—Fire caused by an explosion destroyed the famed Golden Hotel here today.

Fire Chief William Sorensen said at least one person was killed and three were injured.

Firemen were picking their way through the ruined upper floors of the four-story hotel to determine whether there were other victims of the blaze. The flames were shooting 50 to 75 feet in the air above the structure.

The firt broke out at 7:15 a.m. and quickly spread through the building, which until World War II was considered the leading hostelry in the state.

Bartender Vic DiMaggio, who was working in a bar directly over the explosion, said he heard a "dull thud."

"I felt the floor shake," he said. "I could then see smoke coming through cracks in the floor and through the inside doors to the basement." He said he did not know of anybody working in the basement.

Dealers and bartenders were asked to go through the upper floors to help tenants leave the building but the smoke was so thick they could not do so.

Firemen in a crane moved along the outside of the building to rip off aluminum panels used to enhance the building's appearance during recent remodeling. Stretchers were sent up to remove the victims.

Owner Bill Tomerlin said the blast apparently came from an acetylene tank in the basement.

Pedestrian Says Car Struck Her

Alice Shirley Solvin of 81 Madrone Avenue, Larkspur, told police Saturday she had been knocked down by a hit-and-run driver as she was in a crosswalk at Madrone and Magnolia Avenues, Larkspur, at about 7 p.m.

Mrs. Solvin said she was "shaken up but not injured." She described the hit-run vehicle as a new, large light colored car.

She said it was driven by a gray-haired woman wearing glasses. She reported a man was also in the car.

Marine Research To Get $93,000

An appropriation of $93,000 for the new Pacific Marine Game Fish Research Center in Marin County has been approved by the House of Representatives, Rep. Clem Miller (D-Cortera Madera) reported today.

The $93,000 is contained in the Interior Department appropriation bill for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The bill now awaits action by the Senate, Miller said.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service research center was authorized by a 1959 law cosponsored by Miller. The sole man on the staff so far, biologist James L. Squire Jr., began work in October 1960 in an unoccupied building of the Tiburon Naval Net Depot.

Plans are to recruit a staff of six additional biologists bebeginning July 1, Miller reported, and make a start on research projects. The Fish and Wildlife Service also plans partial rehabilitation of buildings for laboratory, office, and library; procurement of instruments and equipment, and laying plans for future research.

Very little salt water fish research has been conducted in waters off northern and central California, Miller said. The emphasis has been on tuna in the south and salmon further north.

This year's appropriation for the Tiburon research station was $18,000.

Sentence Due In Burglary

A 29-year-old Concord salesman, Fred Dean Smothers, will be sentenced in Marin Superior Court April 23 for the second degree burglary of a San Rafael tavern March 23.

At the time they arrested Smothers, police said they found $300 in a canvas bag in his car. He was seized after $500 was reported taken in the burglary of Speck's Irish Coffee at 813 Fourth Street.

Of Course You're Coming

... but please say when!

Like any other thoughtful host awaiting invited guests, Seattle and Washington State are anxious to see that everything is provided to make your stay comfortable and enjoyable. Especially that you may anticipate suitable housing accommodations upon your arrival.

Toward that end we have set up a non-profit, public service operation known as "Expo-Lodging" for the sole purpose of processing housing reservations. This organization has assembled all housing facilities in the area ... millions of room nights ... and is the official clearing house for housing of all types and times.

Truly we expect visitors in the millions ... spread over the six months of our Fair ... but we also have housing facilities capable of handling millions over the same period. Accommodations to meet practically every preference, every purse and every purpose. Metropolitan hotels and motels, modest hotels and motels, hotel-apartments, rooms in selected private homes, group facilities in dormitories, parking parks for trailers, appropriate facilities for campers! Accommodations amidst the hurry and bustle of the downtown Fairgrounds, or perhaps half an hour away in the relative peace and quiet of one of Seattle's nearby peripheral cities. Yes, accommodations in great number and variety, and Expo-Lodging will do its best to place you happily. But we should know "what" and "when."

The service is yours for the asking and there is, of course, no charge. Clip the handy coupon below. Fill it out to tell us what you would like—and when. Paste the coupon on a post card or slip it in an envelope and address to Expo-Lodging, Seattle 9, Washington. You'll get a prompt response—probably by return mail.

Benny Paret Succumbs To Ring Injuries

NEW YORK (AP)—Benny (Kid) Paret died today—10 days after his head was bashed 20 times or more as he hung helpless in the ropes in losing his world welterweight boxing title.

He never came out of a coma after being pounded senseless by Emile Griffith in the 12th round of their nationally televised title fight at Madison Square Garden March 24.

Doctors had held little hope from the start that he ever would recover from the brain damage he suffered in the battering that led to numerous criticisms of the fight and of professional boxing in general.

Paret's wife, Lucy, 23, who is expecting a second child, was called to Roosevelt Hospital when the Cuban-born fighter died at 1:55 a.m.

"I've lost my man," she cried. "I want to go with him. Take me along."

Paret's mother, Mrs. Maximo Crespe, said tearfully that she wanted to take her son's body back to his native Cuba for burial in the family plot.

Paret, 25, had developed pneumonia yesterday.

His wife brought their son, Benny Jr., 2, here with her from their home in Miami, Fla., the day after the fight. Paret's mother and brother, Antonio, 26, came from Cuba later.

Antonio and Paret's manager, Manuel Alfaro, were with Paret when he died. Alfaro said Paret's condition took a sudden turn for the worse an hour before he died.

An autopsy was ordered at Bellevue Hospital.

Brother Antonio, weeping, said to newsmen several times, "I can't understand why he was so mauled."

Alfaro—asked where he placed the blame—said, "Circumstances."

Previously, Alfaro had criticized referee Ruby Goldstein for not stopping the fight sooner than he did—in two minutes and nine seconds of the 12th round, after Paret had taken a pounding on the head without retaliating.

The State Athletic Commission, which supervises boxing, has cleared Goldstein and the ringside doctors after an investigation.

The severe injuries suffered by Paret led the New York Legislature to name a special committee to determine whether the state needs new laws to regulate boxing, or whether the sport should be outlawed.

As soon as Paret's death was announced, New York City police began a formal investigation, which is routine in all such cases. An informal police investigation had been going on since the fight.

Early on the morning after the televised Saturday night fight, Paret underwent a three-hour brain operation to relieve the pressure of two blood clots. Doctors said then that "all that can be done has been done."

Paret's wife, who had urged him to give up fighting after he was knocked out by Griffith in their first meeting a year ago, watched the fatal fight on television.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York ordered a full investigation of the fight by the State Athletic Commission.

Paret's manager blasted Goldstein for allowing the action to continue as Griffith pounded away at the defenseless Paret.

Goldstein, an ex-boxer himself and one of the nation's foremost referees, was distressed at the result but defended his officiating.

"My first thought is always the welfare of the fighter," he said. "I never thought there was a possibility of Paret being hurt when I looked at him. He had been known as a courageous fighter, one who could lose a round and come back and win the next. I had only seconds to act. I still believe I did the right thing."

There had been bitter feelings between Paret and Griffith for some time, chiefly because of remarks the Cuban had made about Griffith's masculinity.

Griffith, a 24-year-old native of the Virgin Islands, was in a vengeful mood before and during the fight. He went for the knockout from the start.

"I didn't mean him any harm," said Griffith after the fight in his high-pitched, clipped tones. "My manager told me to keep hitting him when I had him hurt and that's what I did. He called me bad names at the weight-in and during the fight. I was burning mad."

Chisox Catch Grapefruit Spotlight As They Reel Off 6th Straight Win

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The patented peck-away-at-'em attack is lifting eyebrows along baseball's exhibition trail, where the White Sox have reeled off six consecutive victories—the latest a 5-1 triumph over Kansas City at Sarasota yesterday.

Outside contenders for the American League throne room, the White Sox could unlock the door with a successful combination of their pesky hitting habits and tight pitching performances.

Rookie Joel Horlen, promoted from San Diego after posting a 12.9 record with a sparkling 2.51 earned run average, took care of the pitching end against the A's. The 24-year-old right-hander went six hitless innings before being touched for a lone run.

The victory gave the White Sox a 14-8 record, right behind the New York Yankees in the American League standings. The world champions boosted their mark to 15-7 by defeating Minnesota 9-6 at Orlando.

Houston clinched the cactus league championship among those teams training in Arizona and California by downing Milwaukee 8-3 at Apache Junction.

In other games, Cincinnati beat the New York Mets 5-2 at St. Petersburg, the Angels edged the Dodgers 6-5 at Palm Springs in the first meeting between the Los Angeles clubs, Boston bopped Cleveland 5-3 at Scottsdale, St. Louis whipped Philadelphia 7-3 at Clearwater and Baltimore took care of Pittsburgh 7-1 in a night

Football Giants Hope Rote Will Be Back With Gifford

By JACK CLARY

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants, buoyed by the return of former All-Pro halfback Frank Gifford to active competition after a year's retirement, were still uncertain today whether Kyle Rote, their pass-catching wizard, would return for the 1962 season.

The Giants, who have already lost veteran quarterback Charley Conerly through retirement and have traded veterans Dick Nolan, a defensive back, and linebacker Cliff Livingston, may lose Rote to a full-time job as a sportscaster.

"We've heard nothing officially from Kyle on whether or not he'll be back next season," a Giants official said today, "but if he does not return it's going to affect a lot of what we plan to do next year.

"Kyle still doesn't like the idea of a 37-0 beating in the title game by Green Bay as his last football competition," the official added, "and until I hear officially that he's going to do something else, then I'm counting on him returning."

Another source told The Associated Press that Rote probably would devote his time to his job as sports director for a local radio station, and also work on the broadcast team that televises the Giants games.

Junior Rifle Squad Defeats Palo Alto

The Marin Rod and Gun junior rifle team defeated the Palo Alto senior rifle team No. 1 in a Winter League match held at Palo Alto Thursday by a score of 1191 to 1171.

Mike McCormick Gets Notice: Produce Or It's The Bullpen

Combined AP & UPI

TUCSON, Ariz. — San Francisco Manager Alvin Dark isn't going to let past history and reputations interfere with his treatment of the soft spot developing in the Giants' pitching corps.

Mike McCormick and Billy Pierce, who figured to be two of the top four San Francisco starters this year, aren't coming around and face imminent demotion to the bullpen.

Dark said yesterday that Juan Marichal, Billy O'Dell and Jack Sanford would be his three pitchers for the opening series against Milwaukee. And he tentatively named McCormick to open the next series with 1961 pennant-winner Cincinnati. But he cautioned:

"If McCormick doesn't show me something before we go to San Francisco, I'm not going to start him against those teams the first couple of weeks. Mike has to show me he's ready."

If McCormick can't improve on his mediocre spring record, he'll be "replaced either by Billy Pierce, who also has to show me something pretty soon, or Jim Duffalo, who has," said Dark.

Dark still thinks Pierce, who turned 35 yesterday, can be a once-a-week starter. "It may take Pierce a little longer to get going," he said. "But I still believe he is going to help us. He hasn't given up, and neither have I."

Dark named his opening day lineup and as expected, it did not include Willie McCovey. So where does that leave the gangling power hitter?

"I'll never take that big man (Orlando Cepeda) off first base unless he's hurt," explained Dark. "McCovey has convinced me he can catch the routine fly in left field so he'll play some games out there.

The lineup, which Dark predicted several months ago he would use: Harvey Kuenn, left field; Charlie Hiller, second base; Willie Mays, center field; Cepeda; Felipe Alou, right field; Ed Bailey, catcher; Jimmy Davenport, third base; Jose Pagan, shortstop; pitcher.

Because Hiller has had an up-and-down spring, Dark was asked to comment. But he said only "Charlie is my second baseman."

The feeling persists hereabouts, however, that an early season slump by Hiller could mean a shift of Harvey Kuenn to third, Davenport to second with Matty Alou joining brother Felipe and Mays in the outer pasture.

O'Dell was to twirl for the varsity, while Pierce again tried to find himself while toiling for the "B" team against its Cleveland counterpart.

Commission Disagrees On Game Law Changes

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Fish and Game Commission has been urged to make a number of changes in the 1962 deer hunting regulations, but commissioners disagreed on what changes should be made.

The State Fish and Game Department recommended an early coast season of Aug. 4 - Sept. 23, a late Sierra season of Sept. 22 - Nov. 4, and a season from Sept. 22 - Oct. 28 in Modoc, Lassen, and parts of Siskiyou, Shasta and Tehama counties.

But Commissioner Henry Clineschmidt of Redding called for a Northeastern California season running Sept. 15 - Oct. 14. He also requested a three-point minimum on bucks instead of the current two-points.

He also asked for hunting closures in parts of Siskiyou, Lassen and Modoc counties.

Commissioner Thomas H. Richards Jr., Sacramento, suggested a northeastern season of Sept. 22 - Oct. 14, also to apply to portions of Plumas, Sierra, Nevada and Placer counties east of California 89.

Commissioner Dante Nomellini, Stockton, said there should be just one state-wide season Sept. 1-Oct. 14.

The commission will meet to resolve its differences April 30 in Los Angeles.

Dark A Remote Control Skipper; Giants Worse Off Than Last Year

CONNOLLY

In a way, it is kind of silly to predict anything, with any degree of certainty, about the San Francisco Giants baseball club. Management is full of double talk and those who could give you the low-down are gagged.

Whenever I think of the Giants I'm reminded of the Gangbusters or Naked City TV shows; they're interesting but unpredictable.

Manager Al Dark, who is supposed to call all the shots, is pretty definitely established as a remote control skipper. He lets off steam sometimes, rides the fence most of the time and no matter what he does or does not say, he'll contradict himself within a few hours after his utterances.

No one in his right senses can explain why the Giants are losing spring training games to tail-end American League clubs and lucky to break even with wishy-washy second division National League clubs like Houston and Chicago — and still be regarded as likely pennant winners. The light Arizona air excuse doesn't stand up. The opposing clubs use the same air.

It is amusing to see what the N.Y. Yankees are doing as likely pennant winners. They are clobbering the opposition and proving their right to be called champions.

IF IT IS any news to anyone, the Giants are prepared to open the 1962 season worse off than they were last year. They have no second baseman, they have no infield reserves, they have a thin bench. An accident to anybody on the infield or the outfield would relegate the Giants to an also-ran club.

The big hope earlier this year that the Giants had a chance was staked on the chances of Billy Pierce and Don Larsen, a couple of American League pitching rejects, staging a comeback. It was upon the chances of these two fellows returning to their form that ignited the Giants' pennant hopes. Both have flopped, one worse than the other.

ON HIS spring training performances to date, Billy Pierce, once a grand performer, is deader than yesterday's newspaper. And if the Giants can't detect it, then they should employ Scotland Yard or the Pinkertons.

So why, in view of the Giants pitching, can anybody predict they can win? Sure they might, but not until they begin wheeling and dealing for help. Right now the Giants, in spite of their power, which is great, don't figure to stay in the first division.

Maybe, if you were in Al Dark's shoes, you'd do what he is doing—following a pattern laid out for him by somebody else. Surely you can't imagine Dark doing what he is doing without being forced into it.

DARK AND his Charley McCarthy coaches seem to be sliding along the lines of least resistance. They get their orders and follow instructions. But don't tell me it is their own think ing that is dictating their movements.

So if you ask me, the Giants are worse than a 5 to 1 shot the Reno bookies have made them in the 1962 National League flag scramble.

NEW SIZE DODGE DART!

Dodge Dart 440 2-Door Hardtop

NEW LOW PRICE

Some new automobiles are just too darn big to drive with any feeling of confidence. There's a couple of feet of useless overhang that doesn't seem to do anything except get in your way.

Then you try loading your family and your goods in a compact and you've got another kind of trouble. Too little room and not enough muscle in the engine department.

What's a man to do? Try out the new size Dodge Dart. It's a totally new kind of Dodge. An automobile without excess overhang and bulky nonsense. It's two feet bigger than America's smallest automobile . . . and two feet shorter than America's longest. Sized right in the middle of the big and little.

You get exceptional maneuverability, parkability without giving up interior room. You get handling that's astoundingly easy and firm. You get the most powerful standard six engine in the business. Or, a standard V8 that develops more horsepower and torque than anything near Dart's size or price. And that's just the half of it.

The body is rustproofed. The brakes adjust themselves. You go 32,000 miles between grease jobs. The Dart 440 has full carpeting, vinyl upholstery (in hardtop models), and a fold-down center armrest up front.

Yes sir, you're going to like what's happened to Dodge. Go see the new size Dodge Dart at your dependable Dodge Dealer.

DART HAS A NEW LOW PRICE COMPARE IT!

New car sales are booming. It's a great year to get a great deal. But before you buy, check what's going on at your Dodge Dealer.

Redwood High School's Randy Keller served notice last week that he's going to be tough to beat in the half mile on Marin Athletic League cinderpaths again this season. In last week's meet with San Rafael the Marin League champion unofficially broke the league record with a time of 2 minutes, 3.4 seconds. That time also broke the Redwood school record of 2:07.3 which Keller set last year as a sophomore.

MARIN BOWLING

668 Series Tops At Nave

Lennie Johnson was the star of the Catholic Junior Social Service benefit tournament after she won the "235 pin" with a 239 single at Nave Lanes in Ignacio.

She rolled seven strikes in a row for the cup. Other trophies for the social service competition went to Marion Patocchi, high series; Jean Bann, high novice series. The tournament was Friday.

Also at Nave Lanes, Gordon Bates threw a 668 series on games of 200, 244 and 224 in the Gutter Society, and Bob Gay in the Marin Masters League hit a 653 on 214, 224, and 215 games. High singles recorded at the Ignacio center were Tom Chakes 265 in the 815 Scratch League. He started that game off with eight strikes in a row.

In the Lady Brunswick League, Barbara Danheimer rolled a high 585 series and Fran Thurman a 580. In the competitive Marin Masters League, Franchini's Chateau team produced a whopping 1038 game. Team members are Lee Caplan, Bud Stiveson, Bud Parkhurst, Jack Reinhardt, and George Belles.

A triplicate was rolled for the third successive week at Nave: Helen McCarthy's 147 games.

MARINITE MAY ORGANIZE A SOCCER TEAM

Soccer anyone?

A San Rafael man yesterday said he wants to organize a Marin County soccer team and is looking for manpower.

Norbert J. Krier is the organizer and said teeners and young men would be welcome to join him in the sport. He can be contacted at his home, 605 Rosal Way, Santa Venetia.

"Right now we'd just play pickup games," Krier said, "but eventually we would try to join the American Soccer Assn. and play an organized schedule."

Masters Tourney Contest Planned By Macy's Stores

The ability to second-guess the Masters' Golf Tournament this week will pay off handsomely through a "Guess Mr. Golf Contest" opening Monday at all Macy's California stores.

By naming the man who will win the Tournament in Augusta, Georgia, and guessing his winning score, some lucky San Rafael contestant can hit a bonanza: a golfing vacation for two in Las Vegas, including air transportation, a wardrobe of golfing apparel, and a complete set of golf equipment.

An additional 21 prizes will be awarded the runners-up in this contest, three to contestants in each of Macy's seven Bay Area stores.

For those who don't feel their crystal ball is quite up to this chore of prophecy, Macy's San Rafael is offering free golfing tips: Joey Rey, P.G.A. golf pro, will demonstrate the Tru-Swing practice system in the first floor Men's Department this Friday, from 7 to 9 p.m.

YACHTING TROPHY

San Diego Club Challenges S.F.

San Diego Yacht Club has announced it will challenge for the San Francisco Perpetual Trophy this summer, and it seems assured that the San Francisco Yacht Club, present custodian of the trophy, will accept the challenge once the formal declaration has been received.

In the role of challenger will be Amorita, a 46-foot sloop of the Cal-32 class and, incidentally, the sharpest campaigner in the class in southern California waters. Amorita is not a stranger to perpetual competition. Back in 1946 she was brought north as challenger for the Newport Harbor Yacht Club but was defeated by the eight-meter Hussy, the Corinthian Y.C. defender.

Oddly enough the defending club need not specify the boat chosen but it cannot exceed the challenging yacht by more than 10 per cent in racing length yet may be of lesser dimensions.

As the San Francisco Y.C. does not have a Cal-32 on its fleet roster, the contest will be on a handicap basis. Fortunately, they have a wide scope of potential defenders: Annie Too, Santana, Spirit, The L-36, K-40, Farallone Slipper, Bounty II classes and many others.

This is the first challenge from other than local clubs since 1949 when the Hanahuli of the Los Angeles Y.C. defeated the Dream of the San Francisco club and took the trophy south. Despite yearly assaults by bay clubs it was not until 1953 that Dennis Jordan brought home the bacon for the Corinthian Y.C. in Ah Wahine.

The race will undoubtedly be held in August and in connection with the Pacific Coast championship regatta.

Tribe Swaps Power For Pedro Ramos

TUCSON, Ariz. (UP) — The Cleveland Indians, who had been inactive in the trading market since Frank Lane left the wig-wam, now have made two big deals since the end of the 1961 baseball season—both for veteran pitchers.

The latest deal, announced yesterday, sent first baseman Vic Power and southpaw pitcher Dick Stigman to the Minnesota Twins in exchange for Pedro Ramos.

Last October, Cleveland General Manager Gabe Paul dealt outfielder Jimmy Piersall to the Washington Senators for pitcher Dick Donovan and infielders Gene Green and Jim Mahony.

"We're not finished looking for pitchers and we're going to do everything possible to get another good one," Paul said.

To get Ramos, a sorely needed starting pitcher, who will be 27 this month, Cleveland gave up one of the game's greatest fielding first basemen—the 30-year-old Power. Stigman, 26, was selected for the American League's all-star team in 1960.

Surface Lure Works Fine With Bass, An Angler Demonstrates

STEVENS

Said the angler to the boat-landing owner at Lake Berryessa: "Any chance of the bass hitting a surface lure?"

Replied the boat-landing master: "No, not a chance. You've gotta go deep for 'em!"

Piped up Dick Kielty of Castro Valley: "You wantta bet?"

So it happened that Joe Navarro and pal, Dick, proceeded to collect limits each of nice black bass while using a five-eighths ounce Hula Bopper (a frogie-type lure of the surface variety).

Joe Navarro, who related the above, also gave honorable mention to angler Polz for taking his limit of tasty kitty fish and then hauled in a beautiful 17 pound striped bass in the back country.

FROM DON'S Bait Shop at Clearlake Highlands I learned that the bass fishing slowed down but the crappie fishing was and is tops—and ditto for bluegills. Crappies favored minnows for live bait and the Vee Bee Flyer and the Crappie Killer for artificials.

Worms did the trick for the bluegills.

Striper striving warmed up to limits or near limits for all who took advantage of the good weather and water. Best bets were China Camp and Joe's Launching on the Marin side of the Bay.

Alice Quan reported plenty of action with good sized bass (lots of eight to 14 pounders) all week. Joe Nerviani counted 90 stripers on Saturday and more than that on Friday. Fish ran to good size (eight to 16 pounds) for the most part.

Most of the fish were taken off the shell banks, and to date the largest fish coming in was the sturgeon caught by Ken Bockrath on Wednesday. The monster measured 82½ inches and weighed 116 pounds.

AT LEAST two local anglers took limits from Joe's Launching at Santa Venetia. Bob Lauchenauer and Jack Reeves unloaded three bass each from 10 to 14 pounds.

Dick Dennis called me to report salmon limits taken from a skiff out of Capitola on Saturday. Not large fish, but all of legal size. Dick Dennis of San Leandro was accompanied by Al Arietta. Dick told me fishing was fast and furious with many small boats kept busy hauling them in.

Salmon trolling outside the gate continues to be slow and the majority of fish are on the small side.

From Caruso's place at Sausalito I learned that only three party boats came back to port on Saturday with a fair number of fish. The Aileen was top boat with 14 salmon, the Jennie C and the Mi-3 each had 10 but no large fish were netted.

ROCK COD fishing in the Farralone area was prime on Saturday. The Cappy Ricks, with a party of 10 netted limits for everyone.

Flounders are still being taken on both sides of the San Pablo Bay, and in copious quantities by those who use small hooks and small pieces of bait. Striper striving on the Contra Costa side of the bay seems to be improving with the bass of better size.

MORAGA (UPI) — California broke loose for five runs in the fourth inning yesterday and pinned a 6-3 loss on St. Mary's.

Bus Service For Marin's Giant Fans

Special excursion bus service to Candlestick Park for the benefit of Marin County baseball fans will be operated on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays beginning with the first weekend of the 1962 major league season on Saturday April 14, it is announced by Greyhound Lines' western division.

The Marin County Greyhound service will originate in Fairfax, with intermediate service for fans in San Anselmo, San Rafael and Marin City. There will be weekend and holiday service for both day and night games.

Departure times for the Saturday-Sunday holiday service to Candlestick Park, with round trip fares indicated, will be as follows:

Fairfax, 11 a.m. and 6:15 p.m. ($1.76); San Anselmo, 11:09 a.m. and 6:24 p.m. ($1.76); San Rafael, 11:20 a.m. and 6:35 p.m. ($1.76); Marin City, 11:36 a.m. and 6:41 p.m. (1.26). Fares indicated are "plus tax."

Returning, the Marin County buses will leave Candlestick Park shortly after the end of the game.

An additional feature of Greyhound's special baseball service will be a Giants Stadium seat-reservation plan, enabling users of the excursion buses to obtain stadium seats in advance, at the standard ticket cost.

Blum Headed For Training

Ron Blum, College of Marin athlete who has inked a contract with the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League, will leave Marin tomorrow morning for spring training camp.

Blum will leave San Francisco Airport at 8:35 a.m., bound for the Pirate minor league spring training camp in Daytona Beach, Fla. After a short stay in the Pirate camp, Blum will head for Grand Forks, N.D., where he will play class C league ball.

The athlete was honored with a surprise party Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Frances Williams at 145 King St., Larkspur. About 40 of his former teammates attended the event.

MARSHA SALLIES FORTH

It's Nip, Tuck And Ruff At Sausalito Council

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Politics threatened to play havoc with a Sausalito City Council meeting last night.

Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich, hammering for order, complained there appeared to be an effort to turn the meeting into a hippodrome.

Despite the gavel, the council got caught in cross-fire of political candidates for election, had "nips" taken at it by attorney Harry Wainwright, and was barked at by a black dachshund being held by a woman near the door.

At one point Councilman Michael Harris, himself a San Francisco reporter, said, "A deliberate effort is being made to get somebody thrown out of the chambers in order to get publicity through the press."

"You won't throw me out," snapped Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford), who is candidate for city council in next Tuesday's election.

Under discussion at the special meeting were encroachments and variance permits requested by the Albert-Lovett Corp., which is building the 60-unit Cote d'Azur apartments on South Street.

The council took these actions:

1. Voted 4-0, Councilman George E. Keeney absent, to deny an encroachment request for rip-rap to encroach on city property at front street. The rip-rap is already in.

2. Voted 3-1, Councilman Marjorie Brady dissenting, to approve a six-inch increase in height for the elevator shaft.

3. Voted unanimously to deny a variance which would allow 60 chimney pots to extend two feet above the roof line.

4. Voted 4-0 to approve a boat dock to serve 10 boats, subject to condition that berths be rented only to apartment owners of Cote D'Azur.

5. Heard that a swimming pool is to be installed but took no action on this.

Mrs. Owen started the melee by saying she objected to the fact the building permit fee for Albert Lovett was $1,200. She said it should have been much more for such a large project. Cost of project is $2,500,000. She then called attention to the fact that the photographer was present who made the famous photograph of Marines raising the U.S. flag at Iwo Jima. (Joseph Rosenthal of the San Francisco Chronicle.) Applause sounded. Order disintegrated.

"I insist we have order here," said Ehrlich, "or we'll have to eliminate some people from the hall."

"Why don't you eliminate them all?" asked Mrs. Owen.

John J. Gallas, also a candidate for city council, headed discussion against permitting the various encroachments and variances. Following discussion of how certain fees are arrived at, Ehrlich asked, "Any questions?"

Mrs. Owen said: "I have a question. I think you have been absolutely stupid on your fees charged the Cote d'Azur."

Ehrlich told Mrs. Owen she was being repetitive. He said if people were not satisfied at the way he recognized persons to speak, they would have to go someplace else to make their speeches.

Four Boy Scouts entered with Asst. Scoutmaster Ralph K. Pedersen.

"We have a gazebo," said Mrs. Owen.

Ehrlich said angrily, "I will not permit any discussion of the gazebo (new bus depot) tonight."

Wainwright, who said he "happened to stop by," said the building permit fee for the Cote d'Azur project was out of proportion with the cost of the project.

"You won't permit Harris to interrupt me," he said to Ehrlich.

"There appears to be an effort to make a hippodrome out of these proceedings," Ehrlich said. Laughter followed.

"I will give you $50 for the gazebo you want to rent for $20," said Mrs. Owen. "I looked for the key today. I wasn't able to have it."

Leonard Bjorklund, attorney for Winona Pierce, a resident in the areas of the apartments, said: "The emasculation of the hill has taken place. . . . These people are coming in like bandits . . . hang on to every inch of waterfront."

He said the firm's designer had worked to San Francisco standards where height limit is established by the peak of the roof, not chimney pots.

Bjorklund asked that the roof be made flatter. He was backed up by Bill Whitaker, builder Ed Spolin, and George Lawrence, who said he is building in the area and would likewise apply for a variance if this were granted.

H. H. Smith said, "Sixty chimnies will look like a Pittsburgh steel plant."

Art Exhibition

Carl Broderick of Novato, painter represented in collections throughout the United States, will display from April 14 to May 14 in the Laas-George Gallery of Art at 2036 Union Street, San Francisco. Hours Mondays through Saturdays will be 2 to 10 p.m. and on Sundays from 2 to 7 p.m.

Planners Grant Warehouse Permit For Ignacio Site

A use permit for a frozen food warehouse as a first step in an expected large-scale industrial development at Ignacio was granted yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

John Futscher, the applicant, wished permission to set aside the usual requirements of master and developments for six and one-half acres adjoining the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks east of Highway 101.

The commission consented to set aside the master plan requirements, but not those of the development plan.

The use permit is limited to permitting the frozen food warehouse but it was laid down that no development, land improvement or building construction should get under way until a full permit had been granted.

Ross Teachers Given Raises

Ross School salaries for fiscal 1963 were increased about 7 per cent last night.

The Ross School District board voted the increases, embodied in a new pay range from $5,000 for beginning teachers to a top of $9,130.

The board adopted a tentative budget of $272,400 for fiscal 1963, an increase from this year's final budget of $257,620. New salaries made up most of the increase, said Supt. Donald D. Leister.

Resignation of fourth grade teacher Mrs. Martha Schisler, effective at end of the school year, was accepted. Named to succeed her next year was Elizabeth Burke, former Ross teacher now on leave of absence for graduate study.

The foreign language program was reviewed and Leister was authorized to hire a consultant to study it for possible improvement. The school for the second year is teaching French and Spanish in fourth, through eighth grades.

The next regular meeting will be April 16.

Marin General Honors Nursing Director

Amelia Ditt To Assume New Position

By PATRICIA ZINN

An institution paid tribute to its own institution yesterday.

The medical staff, employees and friends of Marin General Hospital honored at a reception its Supervisor of Nursing Miss Amelia E. Ditt.

Miss Ditt, who took over as director of nurses on Feb. 1, 1952, to organize, train and recruit for the new hospital opening on May 25 of that year, is leaving to pioneer again as director of nursing for a new 37 bed deluxe nursing home, "Devonshire Oaks" in Redwood City.

VIEWING her departure with regret and deep appreciation of 10 years of faithful service are the hospital's board of directors, "Your broad knowledge of the nursing profession has afforded Marin County as a whole and Marin General Hospital, especially, an enviable standard of nursing care. Loss of you and your leadership will leave its mark in the nursing field in Marin."

Another commendation has been given the distinguished supervisor by the Pink Ladies of the powerful Marin General Service League: "Always a champion of the Pink Ladies, Miss Ditt never overlooked an opportunity to commend them on their activities. She will be missed not only for her invaluable service and knowledge of the nursing field, but for her fine wit and tremendous sense of humor. Her riotious interpretation of Santa Claus at the hospital staff Christmas parties with those crazy jingle bells can never be duplicated."

FOR THE THOUSANDS of patients whose rooms she visited because she "liked to be in close personal contact with them," Miss Ditt will be remembered as "The so-and-so old director of nursing," with which she answered their queries "Who are you?"

However, for Miss Ditt whose career runs the gamut from country nurse to supervisor of medical and surgical patients at the large Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, Mich., it is Marin General that has brought her most gratifying and rewarding experiences.

Says the stately director whose white hair matches her uniform, "At this hospital we have been able to provide excellent bedside service to the patients because of the high calibre of our medical staff who have inspired the nurses to give their best. This community is fortunate to have such outstanding doctors."

"THINGS accomplished in this hospital have been due to the fact that my nurses have given their utmost support and loyalty beyond question.

Though I have been a strict disciplinarian, when necessary, they knew they had a friend in me and I would try to help them."

Amelia Ditt wanted to be a nurse from the age of seven when she was allowed to rock her youngest baby brother when he was only 12 hours old. Ever after, she says, "I was always playing doctor and nurse."

Thus, after graduating from high school in West Bay City, Mich., she entered nurse's training at the University of Michigan Homeopathic Medical College Training School for Nurses at Ann Arbor, Mich.

MISS DITT likes to recall that she never missed one day in her three years training, a record which also holds true during her 10 years at Marin General.

Following graduation in 1914, she did private duty nursing before joining the staff at Detroit's Grace Hospital. At Grace, she met another young nurse and the two decided to do private duty in Kalamazoo, Mich., where Miss Ditt says she had her "wildest cases."

The first took her out into the country where a lad of 11 years old had suffered a ruptured appendix. She remembers sterilizing the dressings in the oven for the operation that was performed on the kitchen table. Her experiences nursing this boy day and night at the farm where she was literally "snowed in" are rich ones. "I will never forget those meals . . . why for breakfast, we had eggs, fried potatoes, cookies and even pickles." And whenever she used the country phone all the farmers would listen in, calling to their families that "The nurse is calling the doctor."

MAKING CHOCOLATE ice cream in a tin packed with salt and stirred with a great iron spoon and at butchering season luckily finding the pig's appendix so as to explain the boy's operation are among her vivid recollections.

She also remembers going for three mile walks with the boy's sister, Hilda, who later entered nurse's training. Miss Ditt still has a piece of the pure beeswax given her by the grateful farmer whose son she nursed.

On another assignment she took the train to a small village where the father of a little boy ill with pneumonia met her with a team of horses and bundled her in a buffalo robe for the jaunt to the homestead. "Because pneumonia in those days was almost always fatal and we were without the wonder drugs of today, the boy and I were confined to a big room," Miss Ditt related. Everyone was afraid of germs and our meals were handed through the door in a big black drippings pan."

IT WAS on this case that farmers and their families for miles around came to see a "trained nurse," and she had to officiate at the birthing of a calf. When the boy was well again, she departed by flagging down the train, stepping aboard with produce—hams, eggs, butter, cabbage and ears of popcorn.

Leaving Kalamazoo, she returned again to Grace Hospital where she served as supervisor in the obstetrical and children's wards.

In 1919, she joined the staff at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit with the cannons of World War I still on its lawn.

During her 23 years at Henry Ford, Miss Ditt established the obstetrical department and took in the first nursing class. She officiated at the first delivery and has kept track of the baby boy, who became a Catholic priest.

AMELIA DITT served two years as administrator at the Big Rapids, Mich., Hospital before locating in 1944 at San Francisco's Hahnemann Hospital as medical and surgical floor supervisor. It was during vacation trips to California while at Ford that she determined to come to San Francisco.

After three years at Hahnemann, she returned to Michigan because she wanted to get into administrative work again. It was as an administrator in Greenville, Mich., that she invited the farmers "in for tea" and casually asked support in the building of a new hospital. Thus, she was instrumental in the construction of a new United Memorial Hospital.

While on a Christmas vacation in San Francisco, she heard of the new hospital under construction in Marin. Having completed her work in Greenville, she applied and accepted the position as director of nursing at the 104 bed Marin General Hospital. Com-

MISS DITT has been an integral part of the growth of that hospital which opened in 1952, with 64 patients and survived the polio epidemic in the fall of that year.

Away from her duties as director, Miss Ditt divides her time among such pleasures as grand opera where she still "weeps every time" over "Madame Butterfly," a library of more than 100 classical and semi-classical records, collection of maps and library of occult literature and metaphysics and an antique glass collection.

SHE ALSO loves to cook German food and further her study of flying saucers and the exploration of space. Both Miss Ditt and her red tabby cat "Persia" enjoy television on the set given her by her nursing staff.

Amelia Ditt will leave Marin General having enriched the hospital not only with her wide experience but also with the splendid qualities with which she is endowed.

Mother Of Three Seeks Title Of Best U.S. Woman Driver

Patricia Sawyer, mother of three, is seeking the title of "the best all-around woman driver in the country."

The 42-year-old widow from Hemet is now practicing for her third trip as a driver in the Mobil Economy Run from Los Angeles to Detroit March 31 to April 5.

She won her class in the fuel contest last spring, averaging 29 miles-per-gallon in a compact car and beating 12 other male and female drivers in her division.

Her husband was scheduled to be her co-driver. But he was one of the pilots killed in the December, 1960, mid-air collision over New York City.

When she is not on the road, she and her children, Pamela, 16; Robin, 14, and Kim, 9, raise quarter horses for show and racing on their 20-acre ranch.

How did a busy mother and housewife get mixed up in competitive driving?

"My father taught me to drive when I was 8, and my brother raced three-quarter midgets. Later my husband bought a sports car and I started to race it on California tracks." In fact, Mrs. Sawyer became Pacific Coast Women's Racing Champion in 1955-56.

She says that both concentration and relaxation are keys to good driving, but these points also are the main motoring faults of women.

"You can be alert yet relaxed. If you're tense, you cannot react quickly in emergencies and you will tire quickly on the highway.

"Too many women take off from a stop sign with a buck and a jerk, then slow down to a crawl. Start smoothly, cruise steadily, and ease into signals and stops.

"You'll get there just as fast as the next person. You'll hit many more signals on the green. And you'll increase your fuel economy by as much as three miles to the gallon. That figures up at the end of the month."

She learned these simple tips driving the economy run. She states that today's woman has no excuse for being a bad driver.

Also attending are Mrs. Elsa Peterson of San Rafael, president of the Marin District, and Mrs. Gladys Taylor of Sausalito.

Marin Scout Executives Attend Meet To Program Age Level

Mrs. H. F. Green, president, and Miss Dorothy Erthle, executive director, Marin County Girl Scout Council, are attending meeting of all Region XII council executives at Asilomar today through Thursday.

Mrs. Charles U. Culmer, national president of the Girl Scouts of the U.S., is also attending the meeting, at which the new "four age level" Girl Scout program will be explained and discussed.

Also attending the three-day meeting is Mrs. James D. Adams, who has been appointed program launching coordinator for the Marin Council.

The new program, the result of studies made for the Girl Scouts of the U.S., by the Survey Research Center, University of Michigan, will become effective with the simultaneous release of four handbooks for girls in September 1963.

At that time, age groups for all Girl Scouts will be as follows: Brownie Girl Scouts, aged 7 and 8 years; Junior Girl Scouts, aged 9, 10 and 11 years; Cadette Girl Scouts, aged 12, 13 and 14 years; and Senior Girl Scouts, aged 15, 16 and 17 years. Until that time, troops will continue in the present pattern of Brownie, Intermediate and Senior Girl Scouts.

The sequence of names has been selected to give a feeling of progression through the entire Girl Scout age range of 7 through 17 years. "Brownies" is the popular name for the youngest members of the Girl Guide Girl Scout movement around the world.

"Junior" indicates that the girls just beyond Brownie age look forward to moving on into the more advanced levels within the program. "Cadette" is an adaptation of the word "cadet," used in its historic sense to describe a younger son of a great family. The Cadette Girl Scout, as the second oldest daughter or sister in the Girl Scout family is training herself for her future. "Senior" clearly identifies the status of the high school age group as the oldest girl members in Scouting.

There will be no change in the fundamental elements of the Girl Scout program, proven to be as valid today as they were 50 years ago. The entire structure will be streamlined, however, and a careful design for progression will be built on the development pattern of girls growing up in the United States of America in the 1960s. A major objective is to make the Girl Scout program of informal education a more effective complement to the present-day school curriculum.

Mrs. Adams will coordinate a large-scale effort to explain plans for change to the Girl Scout family and to other community groups that work closely with the Girl Scouts; to organize troops within the present three age levels in such a way that the change to four levels may be accomplished without confusion; and to train the council's adult volunteers in details of the revised program as soon as information becomes available.

Stanford Students Will Present Musical Program

A program of classical and given at the Tamalpais Centre Women's Club in Kentfield Friday by three students from the music department at Stanford University.

Soloists for the 2 p. m. program will be Martha Krug and Joyce Firstenberger, who will be accompanied by Walter Moore. Martha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Krug of Sleepy Hollow.

Presidents of the federated clubs of Marin will be guests. Mrs. Thomas Cusick is chairman for the tea, which will follow the program. Her assistants will be Mesdames Albert Heston, George Sweeney, Horace Shadle, W. A. Sears and B. J. McCarthy.

A board meeting will be held at 11 a. m. and a business session at 1 p.m.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Farewell Parties In Honor Of Mr. And Mrs. Stors Smith

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Farewell parties by the score are being given for Mr. and Mrs. Storrs Smith who are moving to Honolulu to make it their home permanently. They have sold their house in Sleepy Hollow. He has been the executive of Marin County Boy Scout Council and has been transferred to Honolulu as executive of Aloha Council which takes in all of Hawaii and other islands of the Pacific to and including Wake.

Storrs will fly to Honolulu the first of May and later rejoin his family here. They'll sail to Hawaii June 28 aboard the Lurline. The Smiths have three children; the eldest, Denny, is 19. The others are Jo Ann, 15, and Sue, 13.

Saturday night the John Lesoines of Ross gave a dinner for the Smiths. The popular couple was also honored at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. John Eggert of Greenbrae; Mr. and Mrs. Carol Brown Jr of Mesa, and several friends down the Peninsula. The Charles Murrays of Ross have set April 14 as the date of their dinner party for the Smiths, and the Howard Schoofs of Novato have issued invitations for their farewell dinner party to be held on April 22. In May several dinner parties have been arranged for Mrs. Smith.

MRS. RICHARD BUDDE received the prize for the most beautiful hat at the Mad Hatter's luncheon staged by the Junior Women's Club of Novato at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio.

Mrs. Budde's hat was decorated with a champagne glass, grapes and netting covered with sequins.

Mrs. Robert Berini received the award for the most original chapeau. It was a turban decorated with stuffed partridges, peacock feathers and two small lights operated by a battery, which shone on the birds.

Mrs. Alfred James Smith's hat was judged the craziest. It was made of two plastic swim tubes, two diving masks and flippers.

Mesdames Alan Chisholm and Peter Ruona assisted Mrs. William Walker in the entertainment.

FROM MALLORCA I received an air mail note from Patricia O'Brien of Kentfield, who studied for a year on a scholarship at the Sorbonne, and is now traveling in Spain. She wrote from Mallorca. She told of visiting the birthplace of Father Serra, founder of the chain of Franciscan missions in early California. The birthplace is in Petra in the center of the beautiful island of Mallorca. The birthplace is owned by the City of San Francisco, which bought the house and built a modern museum next to it. The caretaker, an elderly Mallorcan lady, proudly showed Pat a framed letter she had received from Mayor George Christopher giving her special citizenship in the City of San Francisco.

COHOSTING A luncheon before the Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary house tour tomorrow will be Mrs. John Russell of Kent Woodlands and her sister, Mrs. Lewis Lazar of San Francisco. Their quest will be their mother, Mrs. Chester MacPhee, of San Francisco, who just returned from the Islands; Mrs. Frank Caffarelli, Mrs. Joseph Tarantino and Mrs. James Collins. Also lunching together before the Ross tour will be Mrs. Chester MacPhee Jr. of Corte Madera and Mrs. Donald Kelleher of Kentfield.

Teen Retreat Set Sunday For Students

More than 1000 invitations have been extended to Catholic students in the public high schools in Marin to attend the Teen Retreat on Sunday at Marin Catholic High School.

The day will begin with mass at 9 o'clock in the school chapel followed by breakfast in the school cafeteria. The remainder of the day will be spent in conferences with the Rev. Francis Maurovich, retreat master. There will be a break for lunch at noon and the day will conclude with a social hour at 3 p.m.

The event is sponsored by the Marin County Council National Council of Catholic Women, Mrs. Kelly Wheeler, president. They will be assisted by the National Council of Catholic Men, Peter Allen Smith, president. Mrs. Francis Casey is chairman of the day and will be assisted by members of the 24 affiliates of NCCW.

Week-Long Sale Opens

Better Than Brush

When you have the vacuum cleaner in use, run the nozzle over velvet hats and suede shoes. This works better than a brush.

The name is "Little Godiva"... wear it and you'll know why!

A daring idea by Warner's! It's almost invisible! Try it, it's almost unfeelable. Just two ounces of lightweight uncovered Lycra spandex puts everything under marvelous control. Wear it, you'll soon forget you have it on! What's more, "Little Godiva" resists body oils, perspiration . . . holds its own in your washing machine, keeps its springy shape, its firm persuasion. HOW TO PLAY
WINNING BRIDGE
By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Bridge Player Can Be Just As Clever As Smart Monkey

One way to test a monkey's intelligence is to put a bunch of bananas just out of reach in his cage. The clever monkey will drag something over to use as a steppingstone. Believe it or not, a bridge player can be just as clever as a monkey.

Opening lead — ◇ Q

South won the first diamond with the ace and looked longingly at dummy's ace of spades. In an attempt to reach it, South led a low club to dummy's jack.

This play made South a clever monkey but not a clever bridge player. There really is a difference.

East captured the jack of clubs with the king and returned a trump. Now South could never reach the dummy. He had to lose a second club and two diamond tricks. Down one.

UPSIDE DOWN: South had the right idea when he tried to reach dummy by way of the clubs, but he turned his steppingstone upside down. Instead of leading a low club at the second trick, South should lead the queen of clubs.

If East wins the trick with the king of clubs, South can eventually reach dummy by way of the jack of clubs. He can then discard a loser on the ace of spades and thus make the contract.

If East refuses the first club trick, South cashes the ace of clubs and ruffs a club in dummy. Then he discards a loser on the ace of spades and makes the contract with an overtrick.

Post Office At Bolinas Due To Start

Pepper and Sons Inc. of Bolinas was the lowest of three bidders with an annual rental of $1,326 for the building the firm is to build.

Charles Pepper, treasurer, said the building, to be constructed between Wharf Road and Terrace Road, may also include other stores or offices. The post office area, plus an area for postal customers to park, is estimated to cost $11,000.

Space will be doubled over the present post office on the south side of the Olema-Bolinas Road. The new office will have 850 square feet of interior space, a platform of 45 square feet and a 3,600-square-foot parking area. There will also be a flag pole included in specifications.

Mrs. Mabel Kuhlken, of 544 D Street, San Rafael, president of the Licensed Vocational Nurses League of California, will attend the national convention of the National Assn for Practical Nurse Education and Service, Inc., April 9 through 13 in Washington, D.C.

Plea by Alfred J. Jimenez to the murder of a fellow San Quentin Prison inmate was continued in Marin Superior Court yesterday to April 16.

Jimenez, who appeared before Judge Thomas F. Keating, is a 25-year-old Los Angeles robber. He is accused of murder and felony assault in the slaying last Dec. 12 of Abel A. Navarez, 26-year-old Los Angeles narcotics offender.

Robert B. Dorado, also a 26-year-old Los Angeles narcotics offender, pleaded innocent last Monday to felony assault in the same slaying and Judge Keating set May 15 for trial. Jimenez and Dorado are serving life terms and are subject to execution if convicted.

April Faces Business Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — March has dumped quite a package of international financial and trade problems in the lap of April.

A lot of the old standbys are included, if in fresh guises: Gold, tariffs, foreign aid, international banking compacts. And entwined are some you might be surprised to find their: Steel wage talks, the federal budget, automation, job security, the cost of living (meaning prices).

A small but growing number of financial and trade observers are saying the United States can't solve its acute problems of a recently increased outflow of gold and a continuing deficit in balance of payments just by setting up international banking pacts to fight any runs on the dollar. You've got to go deeper and, as they put it, get America's own house in order.

The danger to the dollar, however remote it may seem, is that for four years the United States has sent considerably more dollars overseas than it got back—an average of about 3.4 billion dollars a year, although this has been dropping.

Foreigners turned some of their surplus dollars into the U.S. Treasury for gold at $35 an ounce. This way the United States lost 2.3 billion dollars in gold in 1958, about one billion in 1959, another 1.7 billion in 1960 but cut it to $900 million last year.

The trouble is that most of the 1961 loss was in the final months of the year and so far in 1962 the outflow has been 279 million dollars.

The hoard is still 16.6 billion dollars. This is about 40 per cent of the gold held in the non-Communist world but the lowest since the start of World War II.

The United States hopes to control the short-term flow of gold by such means as the proposed currency stabilization plan of the International Monetary Fund for which Congress is being asked to authorize two billion dollars and by a gold pool to be operated by the central banks of the leading non-Communist nations, including the United States.

Still, the basic problem remains the deficit in balance of payments. This shortfall of dollar receipts from abroad against the bigger amounts of money sent overseas dropped to 2.5 billion dollars last year. The administration hopes to cut this to 1.5 billion dollars this year (many in the foreign trade business think the deficit will be closer to 2.5 billion dollars again).

An increase in U.S. exports is seen as the chief means of cutting the deficit to gain that end, the administration has asked Congress for power to cut U.S. tariffs in return for concessions from lands now penalizing American goods and to give industry tax incentives to improve its plants.

That brings the controversial tariff issue into the battle. The perennial fight over foreign aid is also involved. U.S. exports already top imports. The international payments deficit arises from other dollar spending. This includes foreign aid, overseas military bases and periodical flights of short-term investment dollars to other lands where interest rates often are higher.

But some businessmen who applaud the administration's move toward freer trade say that the dollar's status can be defended successfully over the long term and U.S. exports materially increased only by tightening the budgetary policies of the federal government and by achieving price stability. This last involves avoidance of inflationary wage hikes, the goal in the steel labor talks.

The put-our-house-in-order advocates also stress cost control and increased efficiency. This often means automation on the one hand and on the other giving up featherbedding practices on the part of both labor and management—both highly controversial proposals.

And increased profits also are advocated as the way to insure plant expansion and modernization, if Americans are to compete with foreigners and expand exports.

Stopping the outflow of gold and curing the balance of payments are problems that are far from licked.

Science Wages Relentless War On The Common Cold

NEW YORK (UPI)—Six viruses captured in the noses of persons suffering from the common cold turned out to be separate and distinct chemical entities This bears out the long-held view that many more than one virus type are involved in inflicting people with cold misery.

Furthermore, these new findings of Dr. D. A. J. Tyrrell indicate common cold viruses are not chemically related to the families of viruses which multiply in the human intestine and are responsible for some respiratory illnesses that have resemblances to the common cold.

Tyrrell has achieved worldwide recognition as the scientist closest to achieving something worthwhile against colds, although he has yet produced a treatment. He heads the common cold research center at Salisbury, England, where he examines viruses isolated from noses in Indiana, London, Chicago and many other places.

In his newest report he and his associate, Dr. D. Taylor-Robinson, said the six distinct common cold viruses should be scientifically classified as "rhinoviruses" ("rhino" is a combining form meaning nose).

"It seems to us that these rhinoviruses represent a group of viruses which are specifically adapted to multiplication in the nose and to transmission from nose to nose by infected nasal discharge," they continued in the technical journal, The Lancet.

With one possible exception, the six rhinoviruses proved to be chemically unrelated to a number of viruses of the ECHO and Coxsackie families of viruses which are intestinal multipliers and which have been suspected of having something to do with the common cold.

In evolution, the rhinoviruses may stem from the ECHO and or coxsackie families, or perhaps the latter stem from the rhinoviruses, they suggested, adding that "at the moment there is little evidence that the same antigenic type inhabits both the nose and the gut."

Their use of "at the moment" was to acknowledge there is much to be learned about viruses in general and viral enemies of people in particular. For example, in size, in resistance to ether and in kinds of damaging affects on human cells, the nose viruses resemble the intestinal viruses.

The one possible exception was ECHO Virus 28 "which seems to produce colds and to be ill-adapted to life in the gut." In behavior in tissue culture it had some resemblance to one of the rhinoviruses and shared some chemical reactions. They were tentative in judgments until they've tested all the known ECHO and Coxsackie viruses for rhino-relationships.

They were quite sure their six rhinoviruses were far from being the total number of virus types capable of causing the common cold. "No doubt many more remain to be defined," they said.

Their new studies confirmed that human blood chemistry reacts defensively to the rhinoviruses and "it may have quite specific neutralizing-antibody patterns." In that there is sound scientific hope for something really effective for use against the common cold.

Corte Madera's Candidates To Speak Thursday

Four candidates for three vacancies on the Corte Madera Town Council will state their platforms to the public Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Corte Madera Lions Club.

All four are expected to take stands on two bond issues which will appear on the April 10 ballot — a $100,000 bond issue for construction of a public safety building which would house the police and fire departments; and a $165,000 bond issue for a swimming pool, including bath house and landscaping.

Seeking reelection are two incumbents, Mayor Albert E. Kogler and Edward H. Colthurst. Attempting to unseat at least one of them are Norman R. Barnett and Donald A. Jensen. The third incumbent whose term expires is Bud Cole who is not seeking reelection.

Battery Case Sentencing Made

On probation department recommendation for leniency, Moses Johnathan Nyagah, 25, College of Marin student from Kenya, was given a suspended six-month jail sentence yesterday for battery of a 22-year-old Oakland girl.

Judge Thomas F. Keating in Marin Superior Court also put Nyagah on one year supervised probation. Nyagah pleaded guilty to the charge, reduced from an earlier charge of assault to commit rape.

Nyagah was arrested last Dec. 3 in a car parked on the college campus in Kentfield.

School For Parents

Parent education nursery schools in Larkspur-Corte Madera, San Anselmo and Mill Valley are open for new applications, Dr. Ellsworth R. Briggs, College of Marin adult school dean, announced today. Interested parents should get in touch with Dr. Briggs.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Board of Directors of the Strawberry Recreation District, County of Marin, State of California, will receive sealed bids for the furnishing of all labor, materials, transportation, and services required for POOL FACILITY, Strawberry Recreation Center, corner of Belvedere Drive and Ricardo Road, Mill Valley, California.

Each bid shall be in accordance with Drawings, Specifications and Contract Documents prepared therefore, now on file with the Secretary of said Board, Mrs. James Gowen, 227 Reed Blvd., Mill Valley, California.

Bidders are responsible for obtaining a complete set of Drawings, Specifications and Contract Documents covering the work, upon which they submit bids. Complete sets of Drawings, Specifications and Contract Documents may be obtained at the office of the Architects, 530 Third Street, San Rafael, California, upon deposit of $10.00 for said documents, each set, which deposit will be forfeited if the Contractor fails to return the Drawings and Specifications in good condition.

Bid shall be submitted upon proposal forms furnished by said District in accordance with regulations, as set forth in the "Instructions to Bidders", and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, currency or bid bond as specified in said "Instructions to Bidders".

Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Secretary of the Board of Directors on or before the 11th day of April, 1962. Closing hour for receipt of bids shall be 8:00 P.M. of that day at Strawberry Point Elementary School, the regular meeting place of said Board, at which time said bids will be opened and read.

Said Board of Directors reserves the right to reject any and all bids or unit prices, and/or waive any irregularities in any bid received. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of sixty (60) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California or local law thereto applicable, the Board of Directors has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages applicable to this work, said rates being set forth in the specifications. It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor, and upon any Sub-Contractors under him, to pay not less than the said specific rates to all laborers, workmen or mechanics employed by them in the execution of this Contract.

A bond will be required for the faithful performance of the Contract in an amount of not less than One Hundred Per Cent (100%) of the amount of the bid, and a bond will be required to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and all bids contracted for materials used in the performance of the Contract in an amount of not less than fifty per cent (50%) of the bid.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Notice is hereby given that the City Board of Education, Governing Body of the San Rafael High School District, Marin County, California, will receive bids for furnishing all labor, materials, transportation, services, and equipment for each bid to be in accordance with plans, specifications, and other contract documents now on file at the Offices of R. P. Ritter, Consulting Engineer, 1539 Fourth St., San Rafael, California. Plans may be examined and copies obtained at the Offices of R. P. Ritter, Consulting Engineer, 1539 Fourth St., San Rafael, California, upon deposit of ten dollars ($10.00) per set, which deposit will be refunded upon return of such copies in good condition within five (5) days after bids are opened.

Bid No. 121 B

Installation of Heating System in Arts and Crafts Building of San Rafael High School

Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the statutes of the State of California, or local laws thereto applicable, the City Board of Education, Governing Body of the San Rafael High School District, has ascertained the general prevailing rate of wages and rates for legal holiday and overtime work in the locality in which this work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract which will be awarded to the successful bidder. Prevailing rates so determined are as follows:

Classification	Rate per Hour
Carpenters, Journeyman	$3.95
Carpenters, Foremen	4.45
Cement Masons, Journeymen	3.97
Cement Masons, Foremen	4.30
Electrical Workers, Journeymen	4.50
Electrical Workers, Foremen	5.07
Painters, Journeymen	3.92
Plumbers, Journeymen	3.975
Plumbers, Foremen	5.07

All skilled labor not listed above that may be employed is to be paid not less than the union scale for such labor and in no event is to be paid less than three and 225 1000 Dollars ($3.225) per hour.

It shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom the contract is awarded and upon any subcontractor under him to pay not less than the said specified rates to all laborers, workmen, and mechanics by them employed in the execution of the contract.

Bids shall be made out on forms to be obtained at the Offices of R. P. Ritter, Consulting Engineer, 1539 Fourth St., San Rafael, California, and shall be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bid bond for five percent (5%) of the amount of the bid, made payable to the Board of Education, City of San Rafael, shall be sealed and clearly marked "Bid for Installation of Heating System in Arts and Crafts Building of San Rafael High School", and filed with the Secretary of the City Board of Education at the offices of the San Rafael City Schools, San Rafael, California, on or before Friday, April 6, 1962 at 11:00 o'clock A.M. and will be opened and publicly read aloud at 11:00 o'clock A.M. on that day in the Office of the City Board of Education, San Rafael High School District, Administration Building, 215 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, California.

The above mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into the contract if awarded to him and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the San Rafael High School District.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish labor and materials bond in an amount equal to fifty per cent (50%) of the contract price and performance bond in an amount equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the contract price, said bonds to be satisfactory to the governing board of said school district.

The San Rafael High School District reserves the right to reject any and all bids or waive any informality in the bid.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

College To Open Contractor Course

A construction industry "management workshop course" will be opened Thursday evening in Room 40 of the Chemistry Building at College of Marin.

Designed for contractors, construction managers, superintendents and estimators, the course will consist of six discussions each Thursday from 7:30 to 10 p.m. from April 5 through May 17 (excluding Easter Week). Coordinator will be Charles J. Hendrickson, San Rafael building contractor.

Registration may be made at the Marin Builders Exchange, 53 Jordan Street, San Rafael, or at the first meeting on Thursday.

Two Marinites Get Harvard Scholarships

Two Marin County residents have been awarded scholarships at Harvard University, Cambridge, Mass.

They are Robin Rudyard Nelson of 30 Morning Sun Avenue, Mill Valley, and J. Ricker Polsdorfer of Willow Hill, Ross. Both are students of the university.

Marin Couple 'Adopt' Girl, 7, Of Hong Kong

A 6-year-old Chinese girl living in a six-foot-square shack in Hong Kong with her parents and baby sister and brother has been financially "adopted" by a San Rafael couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rosenberg of 4 Dorian Way have agreed to contribute to the food, clothing and medical expenses of Fung Wai Hing, announced Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., in New York.

Fung Wai Hing, three feet six inches tall, "is a normally developed, nice-looking little girl with a cheerful disposition," said Gloria C. Matthews, Foster Parents' Plan executive director.

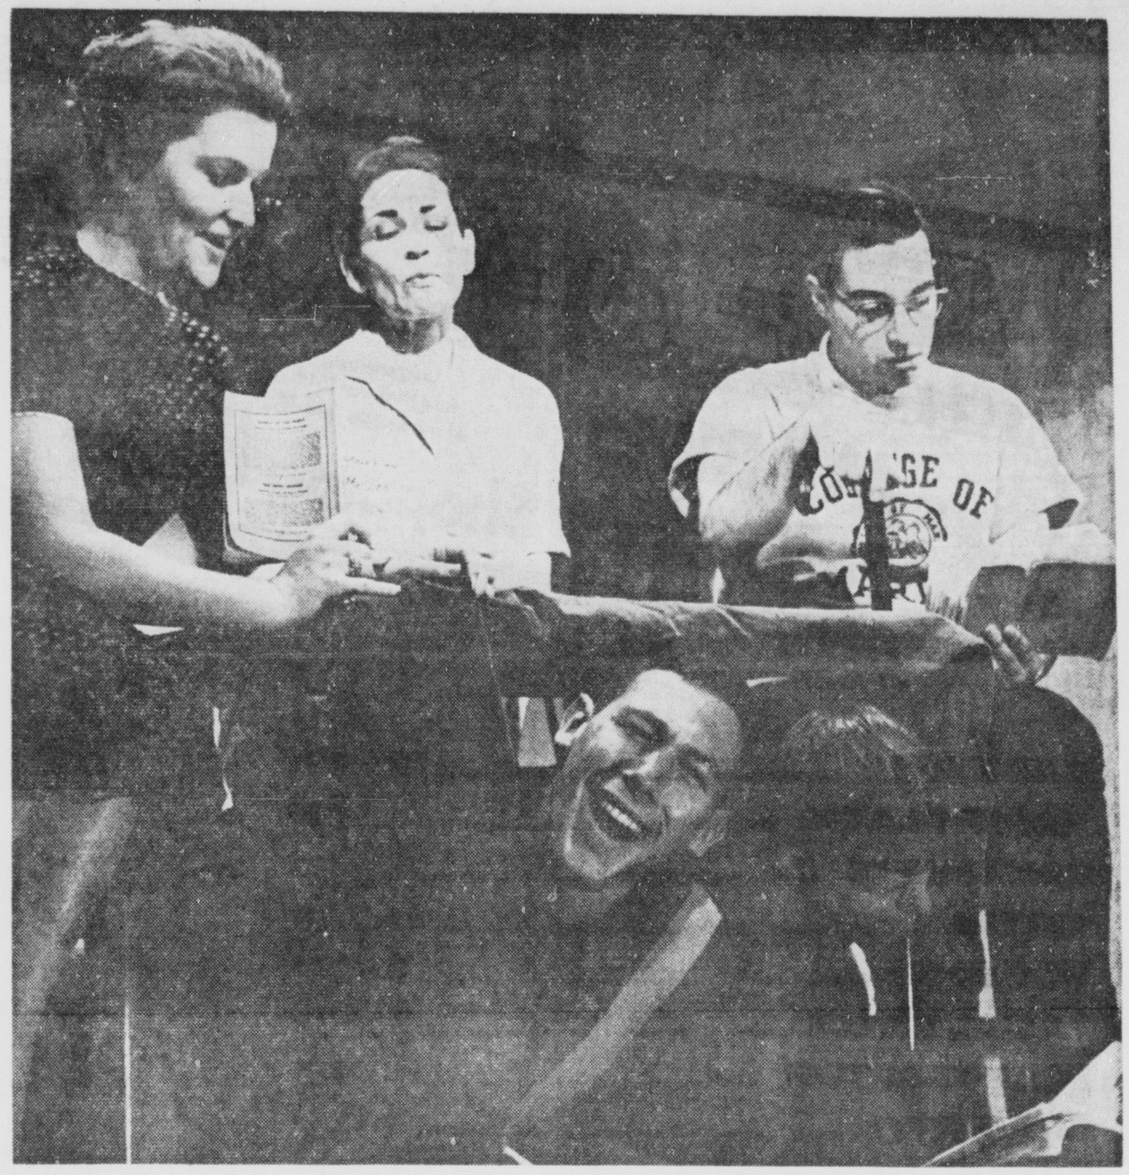
The plan is a non-sectarian, non-profit, independent relief organization which aids children who are orphaned or distressed. "Adoption" through the plan is financial, not legal, said Miss Matthews.



MATCHMAKER AT WORK

Barnaby (Steve Borden of San Rafael) and Cornelius (Mike Gilman of San Francisco) hide under table while Mrs. Levi, the matchmaker (center, played by Arlene Penman of Mill Valley), Mrs. Malloy (Dona Fry of Kentfield) and Vandergelder (Anthony White of Mill Valley) discuss affairs of the heart (?) It's a scene from College of Marin's production of "The Matchmaker," to be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. in the college little theater. (Photo by Louis Caillet).

MARIN BUSINESS And INDUSTRY

Marin Developer Pays A Call On Australia, Notes Change

A man who can tell you something about conditions in Australia is Frederick C. Rowley, co-developer with Hugh Harn in the Del Mar subdivision off the Belvedere-Tiburon highway.

He's back from a trip "down under" representing American investment interests. It wasn't his first visit. He lived there 30 years and was in the construction business in Australia before coming to the United States—but he was impressed with the changes.

More reciprocity between Australia and the U.S. and an increased flow of American capital in the country are pronounced, he said. He headquartered in Adelaide for six weeks as a guest of the Australian Contractors Assn., traveled through the "hot" iron and steel area of south Australia where Kaiser, Richfield and Texaco have huge development programs, and flew to Darwin to investigate opportunities in this mining and cattle center.

Going and coming, Rowley also took in Tahiti, Singapore, Bangkok, Hong Kong and Tokyo.

LYLE D. HOOD, Mill Valley architect previously associated with Ward Thomas in San Francisco, has opened his own offices at 935 Lootens Place, San Rafael.

RICHARD D. BASCO of Larkspur has been appointed vice president of Johnson and Higgins, San Francisco insurance brokers. He was previously an account executive; has been with the firm 14 months.

NICE WRITEUP for Bill Conover and his Trade Fair aboard the "Berkeley" in Sausalito appears in the March-April issue of Continental Magazine published by Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford Motors.

MORE PEOPLE can now return to drinking milk without fear of converting calories to avoirdupois, according to Robert Grady, general manager of Lucas Valley Dairy, locally owned firm that celebrated its 29th anniversary last Thursday.

Lucas Valley has a new item —Slimline Low Fat Milk—that has only half as much butterfat as whole milk and 20 per cent more protein, yet it looks and tastes almost the same, Grady says. It will cost a cent less per quart and is available this week in food stores and for home delivery.

SHAREHOLDERS of Transamerica common stock at the close of business on April 13 will receive their usual 20 cents quarterly cash dividend on April 30. A 2 per cent stock dividend will also be paid on May 15. No fractional dividend shares will be issued. Persons receiving fractional share interests may sell or may buy additional fractional share interests to equal a full share.

THE GREYHOUND CORP. 4.5 per cent Convertible Preference Stock was listed on Pacific Coast Stock Exchange yesterday. It was recently issued in connection with Greyhound's acquisition of outstanding shares of capital stock of Boothe Leasing Corp. whose primary business is leasing equipment to qualified industrial and commercial concerns. Boothe will very likely be operated as a subsidiary of Greyhound.

Driver Training Class Opening At Tam High

Openings in the driver training class at Tamalpais High are still available for adult evening school students, Tamalpais district adult school Principal Harry G. Russell announced today.

The class is offered Mondays and Wednesdays from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., with Allan Ahlsten as instructor. Fee is $22 for the course.
